Johnson Calls Up Federal Troops In Capital Outbreaks

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — A fresh outbreak of looting swept Negro sections of the nation's capital today and crack Army paratroopers joined 4,000 federal troops protecting the citadels of American government.

By BRIAN SULLIVAN
Associated Press Writer

Racial violence spawned by the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. continued during the night in several of the nation's cities. But relative calm had been restored in most sections by dawn.

Sixteen persons died including nine in Chicago, four in Washington. Parts of both cities were heavily damaged by fire. Two youths died in Detroit and one in Tallahassee, Fla.

Chicago was hit by waves of fires, shootings and looting in a predominantly Negro West Side area Friday night and early today. Some 3,000 National Guardsmen shuttled from one trouble spot to the next. At least 20 buildings were burned to the ground.

Federal troops, ordered by President Johnson, guarded the White House and Capitol after aiding police and National Guardsmen to bring a raging Negro outburst under control. Some 350 persons were injured, 2,000 arrested.

Washington, Detroit and Memphis were under curfew.

National Guardsmen were also backing up police in Detroit and the greater Boston area. A unit of 500 guardsmen moved into Pine Bluff, Ark., to keep peace after police and Negroes exchanged sporadic gunfire during the night.

Guard troops operating from armored personnel carriers in Nashville flushed snipers from buildings on the campus of Tennessee A&I University. Two students were wounded, neither seriously.

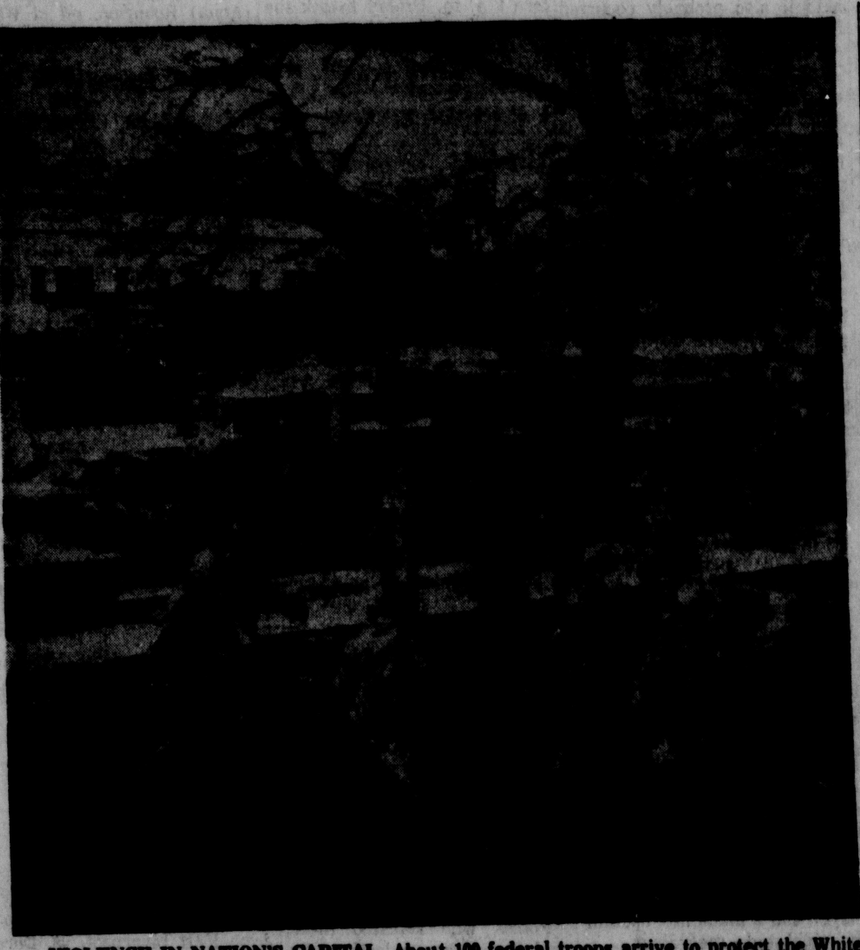

Five policemen and National Guardsmen were injured in an exchange of gunfire with snipers near the predominantly Negro North Carolina A&T State University in Greensboro. Guard troops also were called to Raleigh and Durham.

Some windows were smashed in midtown Manhattan as groups of Negro youths moved into the Times Square-theater district area of New York, but the Harlem and Bedford Stuyvesant Negro areas were relatively peaceful after sporatic violence the night before.

Trouble also was reported in Philadelphia, Wichita, Kan., Oakland and Palo Alto, Calif., Denver, Hartford, Conn., Jefferson City, Mo., Albany, Freeport and Buffalo, N.Y., Toledo, Ohio, South Bend, Ind., Trenton, N.J., Portland, Ore., Kalamazoo, Mich., Pine Bluff, Ark., Atlanta, Ga.

The violence in Washington and other major urban centers led the President to cancel his plans for weekend conferences in Honolulu on Vietnam war

Unity Plea, Rights Bill Action Eyed

Johnson Requested Session Following Slaying Of King

WASHINGTON (AP) — Key members of Congress expect President Johnson's special message Monday night to combine a plea for national unity with an urgent call for action on civil rights, housing and other social programs.

Johnson will address a joint session of the Senate and House, a session he requested after the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King.

Congressional leaders agreed a prime recommendation would be for House enactment of the Senate-passed civil rights bill with its strong open-housing section. Johnson already has asked for this action.

There have been signs of growing support for speedy action on the bill in the wake of King's death.

There was substantial agreement Johnson would renew a plea for prompt action on his housing measure, which combines several low-income housing programs with such special provisions as riot insurance for homes and businesses in slum areas.

Johnson was considered certain also to renew his urgings for an income-tax increase. Pending legislation calls for a 10 per cent surcharge.

Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., of the House Banking Committee, which has jurisdiction over housing legislation, welcomed the expected presidential call for it.

But he added such programs require so much time they would not have much impact on the immediate situation.

Net Spreads In Hunt For King's Killer

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — As waves of racial violence continued to break on a number of the nation's cities, Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark said the net for the killer of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. had been spread "several hundred miles from Memphis."

Police expressed optimism in their search for the sniper who shot King Thursday and the reward for his apprehension grew to $150,000. Civil rights leaders predicted that up to 40,000 persons would take part Monday in a march originally scheduled by King.

Police Director Frank Holloman gave no indication at a news conference whether the murderer would be seized "in the next hour, six hours, or 12 hours" but said they had a large amount of physical evidence.

Clark, in a whirlwind, eight-hour trip to the city, appeared pleased with the progress of the investigation. "We've got substantial leads," he said. "We're very hopeful."

The crisis precipitated by the death of the Nobel Prize winning civil rights leader led President Johnson to cancel his trip to Hawaii, planned as a preliminary to possible peace talks with the North Vietnamese.

The President declared Sunday a day of national mourning for King, ordered American flags to half staff at U.S. military installations over the world and scheduled an address before a joint session of Congress Monday night on new proposals to ease the plight of the Negro.

Hanoi Told U.S. Is Ready

Arrangements For Peace Talks 'Moving Forward'

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials report arrangements with North Vietnam for preliminary discussions on peace talks are "moving forward" very slowly but are still on the track.

The State Department officially disclosed Friday night the North Vietnamese have been notified through diplomatic channels that President Johnson has agreed to "establish contact."

The unintended disclosure was forced, officials said, by a report that North Vietnam's Deputy Foreign Minister Hoang Van Loi had said in Algiers the United States had not replied to his government's proposal for preliminary discussions.

"In accordance with the President's statement of April 4," the State Department said, "We immediately proceeded to take steps to establish contact. Apparently the deputy foreign minister is not fully informed."

Johnson announced Sunday a limited bombing halt over North Vietnam and asked for peace talks. Hanoi responded Wednesday morning with a statement it was ready to make contact. Several hours later Johnson announced: "We will establish contact."

That was followed by the official word through diplomatic channels and officials said Friday night they were waiting for President Ho Chi Minh to make the next move.

President Johnson's cancellation Friday of his Hawaii conference with his top Saigon officials did not affect the peace talk prospects in any way, administration officials said.

The White House announced Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. commander in Vietnam who was to have attended the Honolulu conference this weekend, was coming to Washington instead.

So it appeared a major purpose of Johnson's abandoned trip to the Pacific could be achieved in Washington.

Diplomats said they thought Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker would also show up in Washington in a day or so though they had no definite word on his plans.

Johnson canceled his Pacific trip because of developments following the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King. But the subsequent announcement that Westmoreland was coming to Washington meant that despite his preoccupation with the homefront crisis Johnson intended to spend as much time as possible on the crisis in Vietnam.

Trudeau Seen As Canada's New Premier

OTTAWA (AP) — Canada's Liberal party convention votes today on a new leader, with Justice Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau strongly favored to succeed Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson.

After two days of speeches and behind-the-scenes maneuvering, the 46-year-old Quebec intellectual appeared to have rolled up sufficient support to put him substantially ahead of the nine other candidates on the first ballot.

At least four of the contenders were still rated as possible threats, however, in the event they could get together behind one in a stop-Trudeau move.

They were Foreign Minister Paul Martin, Transport Minister Paul Hellyer, Consumer Affairs Minister John Turner and former Trade Minister Robert Winters.

The other candidates were expected to drop out after the first ballot or two and attempt to swing their supporters to one of the front runners.

The new leader will automatically become prime minister when Pearson retires later this month.

Services Will Be Monday, Burial Tuesday For King

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Dr Martin Luther King Jr. will return for the last time Monday to the small Negro church where he and his father preached the doctrines of human dignity and nonviolence.

King's widow asked that his funeral be held at the Ebenezer Baptist church, which had been a touchstone for her husband throughout his turbulent career.

That career was ended in Memphis, Tenn., Thursday by an assassin's bullet.

The Rev. Martin Luther King Sr. was pastor of Ebenezer when the slain Negro leader was born. It was in this church that the younger King grew up and it was where he returned as co-pastor with his father after his role as a civil rights leader brought him international fame.

King's body will lie in state at Spelman College for 48 hours beginning at 4 p.m. today. The body will be taken to the church Monday and the funeral will be held at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday.

The service will be led by Dr Benjamin E. Mays, retired president of Morehouse College

Other sections hit by violence included Herron Hill, lower Oakland and Lawrenceville.

Windows Smashed

Thieves Enter 2 Stores, Ransack Dentist's Office

The downtown businesses were entered and a dentist's office ransacked during the night, city police reported today.

Stereo tape equipment was taken from Kapp Radio and Television store on W. 4th St., cameras were removed from the display window of Don Eckert's Camera Mart, and personal papers and desk drawers were ransacked at the Jefferson St. office of Dr. J. J. Hoffrichter.

A passerby, on E. 4th notified police about 5:30 a. m. that the window at Kapp's had been smashed and glass was on the sidewalk.

The man, who said he had been out walking his dog, called headquarters when he came upon the scene.

Patrolman Homer (Clyde) Dillon, dispatched from headquarters, said the thieves had entered the store through the broken window.

Taken were two stereo tape players for automobiles; two home stereo tape playing units; two speakers for the machines, a white table AM-FM radio; a clock AM-FM radio and about 10 stereo tapes.

KAPP SAID all the merchandise, valued at nearly $550, was in the show window. Police said they believe the theft occurred between 5 and 5:25 this morning.

At Eckert's on Market St., the thieves broke out a bottom section of the large plate glass show window, and took four or five cameras and some accessories. Eckert said this morning he has been unable to determine the entire loss.

Passersby spotted the gaping hole in the window and stopped Lt. Paul A. Burson Jr. in a police cruiser to notify him of the incident.

Burson and Patrolman David Huffman arrived at the scene to find the window broken at the bottom of the showcase and glass scattered on the sidewalk and inside of the store. Police said it also probably occurred between 5 and 5:30 today.

Lorin Slates, owner of the L. & B. Donut Shop, said he arrived for work about 4:45 a. m. but noticed nothing unusual on the other side of the street. He further described an auto which pulled up to the curb and then left soon after.

AT THE OFFICE of Hoffrichter, a dentist, at 501 Jefferson St., thieves apparently entered between 5 p.m. Friday and 8 a.m. today.

Dr. Hoffrichter said the thieves first entered the cellar by peeling the metal away from a lock on a metal door on the west side of the building, then went up steps and broke a wooden door leading into the office area. They ransacked all the drawers in Hoffrichter's private office and the drawers where he keeps his instruments.

The burglars, who apparently took nothing, left by the southside of the building.

A stereo tape player was taken from an auto late Friday night, police were notified.

Rik Bright, son of George Bright of 1307 Brightview Dr., told officers he parked his father's sports car in a private parking lot in Potters Alley between 7:20 and 9:10 p. m. Friday, and someone entered the locked vehicle taking the tape player and a black box containing eight tape recordings.

He filed the report at police headquarters about 10 p. m.

U.S. Relief Force Lands In Khe Sanh

KHE SANH, Vietnam (AP) — Relief forces landed in Khe Sanh today and some of the allied outpost's defenders already were pushing outward to join the offensive against North Vietnamese troops who besieged them for 76 days.

The enemy siege was officially declared broken Friday after a 30,000-man allied relief column moved within a mile of the base and began fanning out around it.

But the first linkup of relief forces with the 6,400-man Khe Sanh garrison—mostly U.S. Marines—came today when helicopters lifted a company of South Vietnamese paratroopers into the base.

Just before the paratroopers landed, the 400 South Vietnamese rangers who have been holding the Khe Sanh base's southern perimeter charged out and seized enemy trenchlines extending as far as 200 yards from the perimeter. They met no resistance.

In one trench, the rangers reported finding the bodies of three North Vietnamese soldiers, all well equipped. They apparently were hit when U.S. artillery and air strikes pounded the trenches.

Earlier, about 1,000 U.S. Marines had moved nearly two miles southwest of the base in an effort to root out North Vietnamese troops lurking in the hills near the Laotian border.

South Vietnamese troops were expected to take over defense of most of the two-square-mile fortress, opening the way to withdraw some of the Marines or send them out on additional offensive thrusts.

U.S. commanders once expected one of the biggest battles of the war to develop at Khe Sanh, and estimated that 20,000 enemy troops surrounded the base. But the latest estimate was that only 7,000 enemy soldiers remained and the rest had withdrawn into the mountains toward Laos under massive U.S. air attacks.

The relief force set out Monday on Operation Pegasus, and parts of it swept the mountains east, south and west of Khe Sanh today.

But the biggest push involved a Marine column of tanks, artillery and engineers reopening Highway 9, the only overland supply route to the base. The column was reported three miles east of Khe Sanh on its westward push.

Highway 9 has been closed since August, partly by enemy action and partly by monsoon weather.

Deputies Called In Theft Of Car, Two Other Cases

LISBON — Columbiana County sheriff's deputies Friday logged the recovery of a stolen car and investigated two thefts.

Paul Buzzard of Smiths Ferry RD 1 notified the office at 8 p.m. Friday that he was fox hunting in the Grimms Bridge area and found a 1958 Chevrolet stripped of its wheels.

Depty Dan Gartland said the car is registered to Betty Lake of 1932 Pennsylvania Ave., East Liverpool. He checked with police and learned the car had been stolen between noon and 3:30 p. m. Friday from a pottery parking lot in Hancock County.

Richard Hoopes of Briarwood Golf Course on Buck Rd. in the northwestern part of the county reported that someone broke a lock off the rear door of his shop and stole 14 dozen golf balls.

Homer Rogers, who is coal mining along Mardis Rd. east of Hanoverton, discovered thievery yesterday at his works. Taken were two heavy duty commercial batteries valued at $100 each and two radiators — one from a coal retriever engine and one from a shovel engine.

Only a male can succeed to the throne of Iran.

2 Men Held For Entering

Two city men were being held in jail today under $2,500 bond for a preliminary hearing Monday in Municipal Court on charges of breaking and entering a home on Fawcett St. Friday.

Frank Schmidt of 512 Walnut St., and Norman (Skeets) Stearns of 135 W. 2nd St., are accused of entering an apartment occupied by Calvin E. Cramer of 169 Fawcett St. sometime after 1:30 p. m. Friday.

Cramer said entrance was made through a front door which was padlocked. The incident happened while Cramer was visiting his daughter at City Hospital.

Cramer said the two men were in a rear room of the apartment when he returned. He added Mr. and Mrs. Williams of 957 High St., owners of the house, were in the home when the two entered from the rear room. He said after one man, later identified as Schmidt, struggled with Cramer and an associate, the two fled. They later were apprehended in the Buckeye Tavern on Dresden Ave. by police.

Cramer reported four $1 dollar bills missing from a small bank.

The hearing will be held at 9 a.m. Monday before Municipal Judge Samuel Chertoff.

If a visitor stands with his back to a fountain in Rome and throws a coin into it over his shoulder, he is said to be assured return visit to the Eternal City.

U.S. Relief Force Lands In Khe Sanh

KHE SANH, Vietnam (AP) — Relief forces landed in Khe Sanh today and some of the allied outpost's defenders already were pushing outward to join the offensive against North Vietnamese troops who besieged them for 76 days.

The enemy siege was officially declared broken Friday after a 20,000-man allied relief column moved within a mile of the base and began fanning out around it.

But the first linkup of relief forces with the 6,400-man Khe Sanh garrison—mostly U.S. Marines—came today when helicopters lifted a company of South Vietnamese paratroopers into the base.

Just before the paratroopers landed, the 400 South Vietnamese rangers who have been holding the Khe Sanh base's southern perimeter charged out and seized enemy trenchlines extending as far as 200 yards from the perimeter. They met no resistance.

In one trench, the rangers reported finding the bodies of three North Vietnamese soldiers, all well equipped. They apparently were hit when U.S. artillery and air strikes pounded the trenches.

Earlier, about 1,000 U.S. Marines had moved nearly two miles southwest of the base in an effort to root out North Vietnamese troops lurking in the hills near the Laotian border.

South Vietnamese troops were expected to take over defense of most of the two-square-mile fortress, opening the way to withdraw some of the Marines or send them out on additional offensive thrusts.

U.S. commanders once expected one of the biggest battles of the war to develop at Khe Sanh, and estimated that 20,000 enemy troops surrounded the base. But the latest estimate was that only 7,000 enemy soldiers remained and the rest had withdrawn into the mountains toward Laos under massive U.S. air attacks.

The relief force set out Monday on Operation Pegasus, and parts of it swept the mountains east, south and west of Khe Sanh today.

But the biggest push involved a Marine column of tanks, artillery and engineers reopening Highway 9, the only overland supply route to the base. The column was reported three miles east of Khe Sanh on its westward push.

Highway 9 has been closed since August, partly by enemy action and partly by monsoon weather.

Deputies Called In Theft Of Car, Two Other Cases

LISBON — Columbiana County sheriff's deputies Friday logged the recovery of a stolen car and investigated two thefts.

Paul Buzzard of Smiths Ferry RD 1 notified the office at 8 p.m. Friday that he was fox hunting in the Grimms Bridge area and found a 1958 Chevrolet stripped of its wheels.

Depty Dan Gartland said the car is registered to Betty Lake of 1932 Pennsylvania Ave., East Liverpool. He checked with police and learned the car had been stolen between noon and 3:30 p. m. Friday from a pottery parking lot in Hancock County.

Richard Hoopes of Briarwood Golf Course on Buck Rd. in the northwestern part of the county reported that someone broke a lock off the rear door of his shop and stole 14 dozen golf balls.

Homer Rogers, who is coal mining along Mardis Rd. east of Hanoverton, discovered thievery yesterday at his works. Taken were two heavy duty commercial batteries valued at $100 each and two radiators — one from a coal retriever engine and one from a shovel engine.

2 Men Held For Entering

Two city men were being held in jail today under $2,500 bond for a preliminary hearing Monday in Municipal Court on charges of breaking and entering a home on Fawcett St. Friday.

Frank Schmidt of 512 Walnut St., and Norman (Skeets) Stearns of 135 W. 2nd St., are accused of entering an apartment occupied by Calvin E. Cramer of 169 Fawcett St. sometime after 1:30 p. m. Friday.

Cramer said entrance was made through a front door which was padlocked. The incident happened while Cramer was visiting his daughter at City Hospital.

Cramer said the two men were in a rear room of the apartment when he returned. He added Mr. and Mrs. Williams of 957 High St., owners of the house, were in the home when the two entered from the rear room. He said after one man, later identified as Schmidt, struggled with Cramer and an associate, the two fled. They later were apprehended in the Buckeye Tavern on Dresden Ave. by police.

Cramer reported four $1 dollar bills missing from a small bank.

The hearing will be held at 9 a.m. Monday before Municipal Judge Samuel Chertoff.

If a visitor stands with his back to a fountain in Rome and throws a coin into it over his shoulder, he is said to be assured a return visit to the Eternal City.

A Renewal Of Hope

The burning desire in the heart of every American for a just peace in Vietnam goes beyond the war itself.

The controversial and complex war has become a symbol of all insanity at loose in the world.

Political, economic and sociological ills, feelings of frustration, fear and futility, all somehow seem wrapped up in the package labeled: Vietnam.

The supreme irony of Vietnam is that somewhere along the line the United States lost its image of moral leader of the world while fighting a war — in the name of that which is honorable and right — that it did not wish to fight.

The threat of a wider war with a possible nuclear conclusion is not the prime motivation behind the desire for peace.

There is within this nation a deep feeling that an end to Vietnam hostilities will signal a new era. It will be tangible proof that reason does still exist in the world and mankind can get on with more important tasks.

The idea is prevalent that if the United States can get the Vietnam monkey off its back, it can attack needs on the home front, smooth international relationships and regain lost prestige.

Does this put a Vietnam settlement in a "panacea" category? As we interpret the mood in the country, the answer is no. Peace would be viewed as a beginning — a step toward progress in other areas of challenge.

Vietnam is not the cause of all of America's problems, but it is symbolic of many struggles taking place within individuals and confronting the nation.

Naturally, anything affecting the United States so greatly also affects other members of the world community and its importance is magnified. The Vietnam crisis has caused other nations and their citizens to search their hearts and minds.

The war and other problems has drained from America some of the vitality and enthusiasm that has sustained it through other dark periods and built faith in the "American Way" during times of peace and prosperity.

People the world over are hungry for some evidence that history is not being steered by madmen on a course that will lead into oblivion — moral or otherwise.

When servicemen return to this nation, citizens will rejoice not only for their safe return and the end of the war, but also because they will symbolize a renewal of hope sorely needed in America.

Fishing Fever Worth Catching

A couple of warm days in April is all that is required for fishermen to begin popping up at a rate that would put a flower bed of daffodils to shame.

Newspapers print pictures of youngsters and oldsters lined up along creek banks and around lakes; outdoor columns begin reporting exceptional catches and fishing fever spreads.

It affects the very young and the very old, men and women, boys and girls.

You don't even have to be a true fisherman to get a serious case of fishing fever.

Whether a fisherman comes home with a full creel or empty handed is immaterial. It's the fishing that serves as a spring tonic, not the catching.

If the merit of fishing were judged solely on the size of the catch, there would be a lot of people tossing their equipment in the trash barrel.

Few experiences can match the feeling of peace and contentment that comes from lying back on the bank of a picturesque lake with a line in the water; or passing a day in a boat sandwiched between blue water and golden sky, not worrying about anything any more important than whether or not your hook is baited.

Fishing trips are adaptable. They can take any form the fisherman desires. They can become family outings, a time of fellowship or simply comforting moments of solitude.

The joy of fishing is the psychological lift it gives the fisherman. Everyone can—and should —share its benefits.

Fishing? Great. Catching? Who needs it?

Pothole Problem

Area residents who head up Midland way and Pennsylvanians who visit or work in East Liverpool are glad the request from Beaver County Commissioners for a quick repair job on the Beaver Creek Bridge got a positive reaction from the Pennsylvania Department of Highways.

Route 68 had become a classic example of a second rate road battered into 10th rate condition by heavy traffic and weather, ruining cars and motorists' dispositions, becoming increasingly hazardous. And the bridge roadway was the worst section.

Appeals for highway repairs reach a desperate peak in early spring, and crews just can not meet the demand. But the Smith Ferry Bridge filled the "clear and present danger" qualification and deserved attention.

China Rubs Hands With Glee

"The international situation is excellent."

For whom? And who made this statement?

Obviously not for America and just obviously no American made such a statement.

The rosy declaration was made by Marshal Chen Yi, vice premier and foreign minister of Red China, and it expressed clearly that nation's satisfaction with the way its team is playing the ball game.

Red China is scoring points and the other members of its Communist team are scoring points.

Undoubtedly, it now sees a major victory in the offing. How else could it interpret President Lyndon B. Johnson's removal of the top military commander in Vietnam followed by the commander in chief's own withdrawal, not to mention his latest de-escalation of the war.

None of these actions seem the type one would expect from a winning team.

Surely they will interpret the President's decision to vacate his office as being forced upon him by a nation that has no stomach to continue a war in a remote country of Asia.

They now will look further ahead and see a green signal for their expanding revolutionary efforts aimed at the nearly 100 underdeveloped nations.

If tiny North Korea can seize an American ship and crew and get away with it and if weak Cambodia can shoot down an American plane with impunity, surely anybody can do anything to the giant — but bumbling — United States.

If aggression can be made to pay, if there is no one to interfere, then, in the eyes of the aggressors, the whole world is a lollipop for the taking.

No wonder, in the eyes of the Chinese, "the international situation seems excellent."

RAYMOND MOLEY

Is Democracy Dead?

Jules Abels is a friend with whom, over the past 20 years, I have had many talks about political campaigns. As a professional writer of books, he is mostly interested in politics.

While 1968 is what concerns me most, I am something of a veteran of many past political wars, as a participant in some and a journalist-observer in many.

Abels' list of books includes two on the Truman era — one on the scandals of that time and the other on the amazing upset in the Truman-Dewey encounter in 1948. Since then he has written a significant study of Irish politics, "The Parnell Tragedy."

After a talk a year ago about the decline in the quality of presidential campaigning, despite great advances in technological means of communication and transportation, I did not hear from Abels for some months.

I assumed that he had retired to the lair in the Library of Congress where he writes most of his books. The result is a current book titled "The Degeneration of our Presidential Elections: A History and Analysis of an American Institution in Trouble."

This book rises well above the tide of political books which come off the presses in an election year. It has not only great relevance to this year's campaign for the presidency, but it tells Americans how they have come to this strange perversion of the democratic ideal.

The thesis of the book is that the ideal projected by the founding fathers of a sedate and deliberate choosing of the chief magistrate by indirect means has never been realized since the tide of popular elections — sometimes called by the name of democracy — broke through those restraints in the Jackson era.

I might add that the electoral college, which survives, may in the present year serve to put George Wallace, a splinter candidate, in a position in which the Democratic candidate might win the election in the House of Representatives despite the fact that Richard Nixon (if nominated) could be the overwhelming favorite in the popular vote.

This would occur if Wallace won enough electoral votes to deny either of the major candidates a majority of the electoral votes outside the South. But in a vote inthe House the Democrat would probably get the votes of those Wallace-won states.

There is plenty of food in Abels' book for serious reflection on what has happened in our system of electing presidents. But the style is racy, spicy and very colorful.

The nub of Abels' argument is this:

"The basic premise of democracy is an informed electorate. We may well ask today, can the people govern if they do not know what it is all about? Are the decisions of government so complex and yet so vital that they are too important for the people to decide . . . the more real question — Is democracy dead?"

A still more vital question is implied. Has there ever been anything like the ideal of democracy in this imperfect world?

My conclusion is more hopeful. Out of the confusion of the electoral process has come a long succession of presidents. Only a few have been great men. Several have been mediocrities. But none has been truly dishonorable. And all have been made better by the office they have held.

In the electoral process the many will always be guided by the few. The quality of the decisions made will depend upon the intelligence and moral qualifications of those few. Thus the need is that more and more men and women of good will and unselfish purpose participate in politics at all levels.

New Labor Courts Proposed

WASHINGTON — All you cats, hippies and flower people move over. The mood has caught. As the daffodilers would say, all those three button suiters whose "bag" is business are "making waves."

Victor Riesel

The recently launched management movement, led by some of the nation's most articulate and successful executives, are counterattacking on a key front. They're determined to wipe out the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) and in the next few sessions of Congress push through laws setting up a national labor court.

Leaders of this movement, who can quote from Karl Marx and George Meany, say that only thus can the civil liberties of American commerce and industry be protected and preserved.

This is no esoteric battle. The NLRB is not just a combination of weird letters out of some ancient mysticism.

When the bosomy bunnies in New York's playboy Club revolted against the posh eatery, they demanded the NLRB permit them to join the Teamsters butter and egg union. When pitcher Lew Krausse was fined $500 and suspended without pay on charge of rowdyism by the Kansas City Athletic, the Major League Baseball Players Assn. ran to the NLRB with cries of unfair labor practices. When the pro football players wanted to organize, they too rushed to the board.

WHEN THE CATERER in Westinghouse's Baltimore plant raised the price of a cup of coffee by one penny, the union cried out, charged unfair labor practices because the corporation did not bargain with it before the hike, and dashed for the NLRB.

When Las Vegas's croupiers, strippers, and gambling room attendants banded into unions, and the hostelries' owners said they were out of bounds, the gaming help ran, not walked, to the nearest NLRB examiner's office.

When Teamsters attempt to unionize white collar people and the word goes out that this is not their jurisdiction, the huge union heads for the board — and to date has won more such white collar representation elections than any other union.

The board is everywhere, in everybody's business, in every cranny of commerce, in everybody's pocketbook. It was set up in 1935 and now the coalition of thousands of businessmen, directed by an 11-man steering committee and advised by a panel of three nationally prominent lawyers, charges that the NLRB is unfair to American industry.

Their charges have been seriously considered by North Carolina Senator Sam Ervin. For weeks now his special Judiciary subcommittee on Separation of Powers has been proving the NLRB without benefit of much coverage.

It has been looking into industry's charges that the board really has become labor's advocate — helping the union chiefs to win thousands of representation elections, charging corporations with unfair labor practices at the drop of a union's hat, and forcing indignities upon business executives.

Union leaders retort that this is nonsense, that the drive is intended to smash labor, that southern corporations just want to remain nonunion.

But the management movement's leaders point to such decisions as the board's decree in the famed General Electric case. In this marathon series of hearings, the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) charged that the skilled intraplant GE communications (information) system was an unfair labor practice. The Board found that no one single act by the company was illegal or unfair, but that the totality of it was unfair. One of the management movement's leaders commented: "In other words the whole had nothing to do with the sum of its parts."

Furthermore, say the management movement's leaders, the Board suppresses free speech, free press and censors films.

-:-

ONE COMPANY PRODUCED a movie, "And Women Shall Weep," portraying picket line violence, and showed it to their employes before a plant representation election. The board charged this was an unfair practice and voided the election.

Another employer was chastised for distributing copies of a book by a senator. Happened to be "The Enemy Within," by one Robert Kennedy, exposing some crooked unions. The book was distributed before a representation election.

At other times, the board has ruled that employers must have its rulings read aloud in the plant, or posted on walls, or distributed to other shops in a multiplant corporation. This is reverse supression, say the businessmen. No one should be forced to read or not to read.

So the management movement is covering the probe — and their champion is Michigan's Sen. Robert P. Griffin, author of the 1959 Labor Management Disclosure Act. He testified before the Ervin committee on March 26.

Labor courts are his idea. He is fighting for his bill, S.1353, to wipe out the NLRB, replace it with such courts, and to put 15 judges on the new bench for 20-year terms. He insists that the new judges be lawyers. Members of the NLRB, appointed by the President, are not required to have legal training or law degree. One, Sam Zagoria, is a former newsman.

So, the management movement is swinging. It says it wants its rights. It doesn't expect success in this presidential election year. But it is in for the duration — especially since there is a change in the national administration.

Peace Talks

All of a sudden the United States and North Vietnam, encouraged by the principal governments of the world, are going to sit down together and try to end the war.

Whether it was due to persuasive arguments of Great Britain and surprising support given by France or realization by the Soviet Union that the time has come to halt a war which is proving so expensive to everybody, at last the North Vietnamese have agreed to come to the peace table.

This does not necessarily mean an immediate peace. In the Korean War, armistice negotiations dragged on for two years before the firing ceased.

It was a tragic period during which more than 20,000 Americans died in combat. The first objective today, of course, is to stop the fighting and to argue later about the terms of a settlement.

THE SEQUENCE of events which caused the Hanoi government to announce that it is ready to talk peace will probably not be known for a long time. But, unquestionably, diplomatic pressures behind the scenes were extensive.

It is to be noted that President De Gaulle of France, just a few hours before the Hanoi government broadcast its willingness to talk, proclaimed his support of President Johnson's initiative as a "first step toward peace and consequently an act of reason and political courage."

Great Britain has been having private conferences with Moscow about a formula for peace in Vietnam, and undoubtedly has been talking to Peking along the same lines.

The turning point came when President Johnson announced that he would not run for another term because he wanted to take the Vietnam War issue completely out of partisan politics. His carefully prepared address, intimating also a willingness to de-escalate the war, gave proof to the North Vietnamese that this was an earnest peace effort which could not be ignored.

The Hanoi government, of course, reiterates its previous terms and insists that the United States must "end unconditionally its bombing and all other war efforts.

The North Vietnamese government, in its broadcast, nevertheless declares "its readiness to send its representatives to make contact with U.S. representatives" to discuss steps to end the war.

This does not mean that the Hanoi government will make any concessions in the early stages.

It is conceivable that the United States, on its own accord, may gradually curtail much of the bombing. There doubtless will be considerable maneuvering before a complete cease-fire will be reached, and it may take a long while before such a result will be attained.

Unquestionably the war has been hurting the North Vietnamese, and there is a desire to find a way out now. The United States, on the other hand, has been under pressure internally to deescalate the war.

But the American position, which has been stated so often, still is that the peace must be honorable and cannot be any form of "surrender."

It may turn out that some of the "conditions" will be unacceptable to both sides.

IF THERE is a cessation of hostilities, however, the discussions could go on indefinitely.

It could be that the North Vietnamese believe the United States now will soften its terms and that support will be given to a coalition with the Communist elements in South Vietnam.

President Johnson will not compromise on these issues, but, as has always happened in solving war problems, the biggest progress is made when both sides become convinced that the issues appear insoluble.

Then, and then only, do the adversaries begin to listen to the pleas of neutral and disinterested governments for the adoption of some workable formula whereby the rival nations can live together in peace.

North Vietnam wants to control South Vietnam, and South Vietnam wants to remain independent. Maybe the final result will be a federation of states, set up as a stablizing apparatus in all of Southeast Asia in order that Laos and Cambodia and Thailand, as well as North and South Vietnam, will be protected.

It's going to be a long and hard negotiation, but at least the warring sides are ready to talk. This is the new hope.

Few experiences can match the feeling of peace and contentment that comes from lying back on the bank of a picturesque lake with a line in the water; or passing a day in a boat sandwiched between blue water and golden sky, not worrying about anything any more important than whether or not your hook is baited.

Fishing trips are adaptable. They can take any form the fisherman desires. They can become family outings, a time of fellowship or simply comforting moments of solitude.

The joy of fishing is the psychological lift it gives the fisherman. Everyone can—and should —share its benefits.

Fishing? Great. Catching? Who needs it?

Pothole Problem

Area residents who head up Midland way and Pennsylvanians who visit or work in East Liverpool are glad the request from Beaver County Commissioners for a quick repair job on the Beaver Creek Bridge got a positive reaction from the Pennsylvania Department of Highways.

Route 68 had become a classic example of a second rate road battered into 10th rate condition by heavy traffic and weather, ruining cars and motorists' dispositions, becoming increasingly hazardous. And the bridge roadway was the worst section.

Appeals for highway repairs reach a desperate peak in early spring, and crews just can not meet the demand. But the Smith Ferry Bridge filled the "clear and present danger" qualification and deserved attention.

China Rubs Hands With Glee

"The international situation is excellent."

For whom? And who made this statement?

Obviously not for America and just obviously no American made such a statement.

The rosy declaration was made by Marshal Chen Yi, vice premier and foreign minister of Red China, and it expressed clearly that nation's satisfaction with the way its team is playing the ball game.

Red China is scoring points and the other members of its Communist team are scoring points.

Undoubtedly, it now sees a major victory in the offing. How else could it interpret President Lyndon B. Johnson's removal of the top military commander in Vietnam followed by the commander in chief's own withdrawal, not to mention his latest de-escalation of the war.

None of these actions seem the type one would expect from a winning team.

Surely they will interpret the President's decision to vacate his office as being forced upon him by a nation that has no stomach to continue a war in a remote country of Asia.

They now will look further ahead and see a green signal for their expanding revolutionary efforts aimed at the nearly 100 underdeveloped nations.

If tiny North Korea can seize an American ship and crew and get away with it and if weak Cambodia can shoot down an American plane with impunity, surely anybody can do anything to the giant — but bumbling — United States.

If aggression can be made to pay, if there is no one to interfere, then, in the eyes of the aggressors, the whole world is a lollipop for the taking.

No wonder, in the eyes of the Chinese, "the international situation seems excellent."

RAYMOND MOLEY

Is Democracy Dead?

Jules Abels is a friend with whom, over the past 20 years, I have had many talks about political campaigns. As a professional writer of books, he is mostly interested in politics.

While 1968 is what concerns me most, I am something of a veteran of many past political wars, as a participant in some and a journalist-observer in many.

Abels' list of books includes two on the Truman era — one on the scandals of that time and the other on the amazing upset in the Truman-Dewey encounter in 1948. Since then he has written a significant study of Irish politics, "The Parnell Tragedy."

After a talk a year ago about the decline in the quality of presidential campaigning, despite great advances in technological means of communication and transportation, I did not hear from Abels for some months.

I assumed that he had retired to the lair in the Library of Congress where he writes most of his books. The result is a current book titled "The Degeneration of our Presidential Elections: A History and Analysis of an American Institution in Trouble."

This book rises well above the tide of political books which come off the presses in an election year. It has not only great relevance to this year's campaign for the presidency, but it tells Americans how they have come to this strange perversion of the democratic ideal.

The thesis of the book is that the ideal projected by the founding fathers of a sedate and deliberate choosing of the chief magistrate by indirect means has never been realized since the tide of popular elections — sometimes called by the name of democracy — broke through those restraints in the Jackson era.

I might add that the electoral college, which survives, may in the present year serve to put George Wallace, a splinter candidate, in a position in which the Democratic candidate might win the election in the House of Representatives despite the fact that Richard Nixon (if nominated) could be the overwhelming favorite in the popular vote.

This would occur if Wallace won enough electoral votes to deny either of the major candidates a majority of the electoral votes outside the South. But in a vote inthe House the Democrat would probably get the votes of those Wallace-won states.

There is plenty of food in Abels' book for serious reflection on what has happened in our system of electing presidents. But the style is racy, spicy and very colorful.

The nub of Abels' argument is this:

"The basic premise of democracy is an informed electorate. We may well ask today, can the people govern if they do not know what it is all about? Are the decisions of government so complex and yet so vital that they are too important for the people to decide . . . the more real question — Is democracy dead?"

A still more vital question is implied. Has there ever been anything like the ideal of democracy in this imperfect world?

My conclusion is more hopeful. Out of the confusion of the electoral process has come a long succession of presidents. Only a few have been great men. Several have been mediocrities. But none has been truly dishonorable. And all have been made better by the office they have held.

In the electoral process the many will always be guided by the few. The quality of the decisions made will depend upon the intelligence and moral qualifications of those few. Thus the need is that more and more men and women of good will and unselfish purpose participate in politics at all levels.

New Labor Courts Proposed

WASHINGTON — All you cats, hippies and flower people move over. The mood has caught. As the daffodilers would say, all those three button suiters whose "bag" is business are "making waves."

Victor Riesel

The recently launched management movement, led by some of the nation's most articulate and successful executives, are counterattacking on a key front. They're determined to wipe out the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) and in the next few sessions of Congress push through laws setting up a national labor court.

Leaders of this movement, who can quote from Karl Marx and George Meany, say that only thus can the civil liberties of American commerce and industry be protected and preserved.

This is no esoteric battle. The NLRB is not just a combination of weird letters out of some ancient mysticism.

When the bosomy bunnies in New York's playboy Club revolted against the posh eatery, they demanded the NLRB permit them to join the Teamsters butter and egg union. When pitcher Lew Krausse was fined $500 and suspended without pay on chargs of rowdyism by the Kansas City Athletic, the Major League Baseball Players Assn. ran to the NLRB with cries of unfair labor practices. When the pro football players wanted to organize, they too rushed to the board.

WHEN THE CATERER in Westinghouse's Baltimore plant raised the price of a cup of coffee by one penny, the union cried out, charged unfair labor practices because the corporation did not bargain with it before the hike, and dashed for the NLRB.

When Las Vegas's croupiers, strippers, and gambling room attendants banded into unions, and the hostelries' owners said they were out of bounds, the gaming help ran, not walked, to the nearest NLRB examiner's office.

When Teamsters attempt to unionize white collar people and the word goes out that this is not their jurisdiction, the huge union heads for the board — and to date has won more such white collar representation elections than any other union.

The board is everywhere, in everybody's business, in every cranny of commerce, in everybody's pocketbook. It was set up in 1935 and now the coalition of thousands of businessmen, directed by an 11-man steering committee and advised by a panel of three nationally prominent lawyers, charges that the NLRB is unfair to American industry.

Their charges have been seriously considered by North Carolina Senator Sam Ervin. For weeks now his special Judiciary subcommittee on Separation of Powers has been proving the NLRB without benefit of much coverage.

It has been looking into industry's charges that the board really has become labor's advocate — helping the union chiefs to win thousands of representation elections, charging corporations with unfair labor practices at the drop of a union's hat, and forcing indignities upon business executives.

Union leaders retort that this is nonsense, that the drive is intended to smash labor, that southern corporations just want to remain nonunion.

But the management movement's leaders point to such decisions as the board's decree in the famed General Electric case. In this marathon series of hearings, the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) charged that the skilled intraplant GE communications (information) system was an unfair labor practice. The Board found that no one single act by the company was illegal or unfair, but that the totality of it was unfair. One of the management movement's leaders commented: "In other words the whole had nothing to do with the sum of its parts."

Furthermore, say the management movement's leaders, the Board suppresses free speech, free press and censors films.

-:-

ONE COMPANY PRODUCED a movie, "And Women Shall Weep," portraying picket line violence, and showed it to their employes before a plant representation election. The board charged this was an unfair practice and voided the election.

Anoher employer was chastised for distributing copies of a book by a senator. Happened to be "The Enemy Within," by one Robert Kennedy, exposing some crooked unions. The book was distributed before a representation election.

At other times, the board has ruled that employers must have its rulings read aloud in the plant, or posted on walls, or distributed to other shops in a multiplant corporation. This is reverse supression, say the businessmen. No one should be forced to read or not to read.

So the management movement is covering the probe — and their champion is Michigan's Sen. Robert P. Griffin, author of the 1959 Labor Management Disclosure Act. He testified before the Ervin committee on March 26.

Labor courts are his idea. He is fighting for his bill, S.1353, to wipe out the NLRB, replace it with such courts, and to put 15 judges on the new bench for 20-year terms. He insists that the new judges be lawyers. Members of the NLRB, appointed by the President, are not required to have legal training or law degree. One, Sam Zagoria, is a former newsman.

So, the management movement is swinging. It says it wants its rights. It doesn't expect success in this presidential election year. But it is in for the duration — especially since there is a change in the national administration.

Peace Talks

All of a sudden the United States and North Vietnam, encouraged by the principal governments of the world, are going to sit down together and try to end the war.

Whether it was due to persuasive arguments of Great Britain and surprising support given by France or realization by the Soviet Union that the time has come to halt a war which is proving so expensive to everybody, at last the North Vietnamese have agreed to come to the peace table.

This does not necessarily mean an immediate peace. In the Korean War, armistice negotiations dragged on for two years before the firing ceased.

It was a tragic period during which more than 20,000 Americans died in combat. The first objective today, of course, is to stop the fighting and to argue later about the terms of a settlement.

THE SEQUENCE of events which caused the Hanoi government to announce that it is ready to talk peace will probably not be known for a long time. But, unquestionably, diplomatic pressures behind the scenes were extensive.

It is to be noted that President De Gaulle of France, just a few hours before the Hanoi government broadcast its willingness to talk, proclaimed his support of President Johnson's initiative as a "first step toward peace and consequently an act of reason and political courage."

Great Britain has been having private conferences with Moscow about a formula for peace in Vietnam, and undoubtedly has been talking to Peking along the same lines.

The turning point came when President Johnson announced that he would not run for another term because he wanted to take the Vietnam War issue completely out of partisan politics. His carefully prepared address, intimating also a willingness to de-escalate the war, gave proof to the North Vietnamese that this was an earnest peace effort which could not be ignored.

The Hanoi government, of course, reiterates its previous terms and insists that the United States must "end unconditionally its bombing and all other war efforts.

The North Vietnamese government, in its broadcast, nevertheless declares "its readiness to send its representatives to make contact with U.S. representatives" to discuss steps to end the war.

This does not mean that the Hanoi government will make any concessions in the early stages.

It is conceivable that the United States, on its own accord, may gradually curtail much of the bombing. There doubtless will be considerable maneuvering before a complete cease-fire will be reached, and it may take a long while before such a result will be attained.

Unquestionably the war has been hurting the North Vietnamese, and there is a desire to find a way out now. The United States, on the other hand, has been under pressure internally to deescalate the war.

But the American position, which has been stated so often, still is that the peace must be honorable and cannot be any form of "surrender."

It may turn out that some of the "conditions" will be unacceptable to both sides.

IF THERE is a cessation of hostilities, however, the discussions could go on indefinitely.

It could be that the North Vietnamese believe the United States now will soften its terms and that support will be given to a coalition with the Communist elements in South Vietnam.

President Johnson will not compromise on these issues, but, as has always happened in solving war problems, the biggest progress is made when both sides become convinced that the issues appear insoluble.

Then, and then only, do the adversaries begin to listen to the pleas of neutral and disinterested governments for the adoption of some workable formula whereby the rival nations can live together in peace.

North Vietnam wants to control South Vietnam, and South Vietnam wants to remain independent. Maybe the final result will be a federation of states, set up as a stablizing apparatus in all of Southeast Asia in order that Laos and Cambodia and Thailand, as well as North and South Vietnam, will be protected.

It's going to be a long and hard negotiation, but at least the warring sides are ready to talk. This is the new hope.

and King's former teacher and friend.

After the funeral, mourners will march several blocks to Morehouse College, King's alma mater, for a memorial service on the school's quadrangle.

King will be buried at South View Cemetery, alongside his grandparents.

His widow returned to her home Friday after completing the funeral arrangements.

The house was filled with friends, white and Negro, who had been busy answering phones, preparing food and sorting the thousands of telegrams that poured in from throughout the world.

The messages were representative of all walks of life, from heads of state who knew King as an equal to slum-dwellers who followed him as a messiah.

One, a woman in New York, said, "I am a nobody, but I'm sorry."

Mourners expected for the slain leader's funeral included national figures and foreign dignitaries.

Rep. John C. Conyers, D-Mich., urged members of the U.S. House of Representatives to attend the funeral as "a strong showing of concern... urgently needed at this time of national crisis."

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant said he would send Undersecretary Ralph J. Bunche to represent the world organization.

African delegations at the U.N. said they would send representatives.

Entertainer Sammy Davis Jr. announced in New York his plans to be at the service.

In Atlanta, Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. said he expected a number of Negro leaders to begin arriving today.

A spokesman for the King family said Mrs. King felt the funeral and the march to Morehouse College would represent three of the most important elements in her husband's life: his church and faith, his education and the use of the march as a means of nonviolent protest.

When friends remarked on her strength and composure, Mrs. King replied, "I think you rise to the occasion in a crisis. I think the Lord gives you the strength when you need it."

She said the four King children were bearing up well in the tragedy's aftermath.

"There was a time when I wondered if they could accept this if it happened," she said. "At the time they were younger and I don't think they could have. Now I think they can. And they've been wonderful."

and King's former teacher and friend.

After the funeral, mourners will march several blocks to Morehouse College, King's alma mater, for a memorial service on the school's quadrangle.

King will be buried at South View Cemetery, alongside his grandparents.

His widow returned to her home Friday after completing the funeral arrangements.

The house was filled with friends, white and Negro, who had been busy answering phones, preparing food and sorting the thousands of telegrams that poured in from throughout the world.

The messages were representative of all walks of life, from heads of state who knew King as an equal to slum-dwellers who followed him as a messiah.

One, a woman in New York, said, "I am a nobody, but I'm sorry."

Mourners expected for the slain leader's funeral included national figures and foreign dignitaries.

Rep. John C. Conyers, D-Mich., urged members of the U.S. House of Representatives to attend the funeral as "a strong showing of concern... urgently needed at this time of national crisis."

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant said he would send Undersecretary Ralph J. Bunche to represent the world organization.

African delegations at the U.N. said they would send representatives.

Entertainer Sammy Davis Jr. announced in New York his plans to be at the service.

In Atlanta, Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. said he expected a number of Negro leaders to begin arriving today.

A spokesman for the King family said Mrs. King felt the funeral and the march to Morehouse College would represent three of the most important elements in her husband's life: his church and faith, his education and the use of the march as a means of nonviolent protest.

When friends remarked on her strength and composure, Mrs. King replied, "I think you rise to the occasion in a crisis. I think the Lord gives you the strength when you need it."

She said the four King children were bearing up well in the tragedy's aftermath.

"There was a time when I wondered if they could accept this if it happened," she said. "At the time they were younger and I don't think they could have. Now I think they can. And they've been wonderful."

Rites Of Communion Will Be Conducted

Paul Dailey, a school board member, answered questions on policy about chaperones for bus trips.

He also outlined facts about the proposed bond issue for building additions. The group endorsed the issue.

It was announced there will be no trip to Cedar Point this spring to participate with other bands in parade and performances.

James Steiner presided.

Play 'Blows Up' A Storm

By CLARA HALL

An excellent portrayal of character roles marked the performance of "Arsenic and Old Lace" presented by the senior class of East Liverpool High School Friday night at Westgate School.

The three - act play will be repeated again tonight at 7:45, with tickets available at the door.

Laughter prevailed from the first sip of the poisonous elderberry wine to the last toot of the bugle as the story unfolds of a family where insanity doesn't run, "it gallops."

Aileen Silverman was perfect in her role as Aunt Abby. Alex Cycyn, a little too pretty for an "old Aunt Martha" part, helped her sister in the disposal of 12 lonely gentlemen whom they claimed they put out of their misery as a favor.

—:—

MAC OGILVIE stole the show in the comedy role of Teddy Brewster, the nephew who imagined he was Teddy Roosevelt in complete charge of the Panama Canal burial site in the basement. His sprinting up the stairs and blowing of the bugle was a riot.

The part of Mortimer Brewster, the only sane member of the family, was well done by Bill Hopper, who, while being besieged with family troubles, was having some romantic problems with pretty Linda Alexander, his sweetheart who lived "just a cemetery away."

Dan Dupont played the brother with criminal tendencies who had as a sidekick a plastic surgeon, Len Yanni, providing the facial changes necessary to escape from the law.

—:—

THE REMAINDER of the cast included Dale Jones, Linda Hager, Margaret Rush, Vicki Stover, Joe Arcuragi, Mike Hughes, Jim Flora, Keith Myler, Rick Rowley, Jerry Lovejoy and Debbie Emmerling.

The silent member of the cast, John Frederick, was "the body," spending most of his time in the window seat which hid the bodies until the proper services were held.

James R. Martin and H. Keith Langdon are the directors.

Music between acts was provided by the high school stage band under the direction of Donald Adams.

A MOMENT OF MEDITATION
Faith Or Opinion II

Last week we began a discussion with you concerning the subject of faith and opinion. We wish to make some further observations in our article today. The religious world today is divided. In recent years many have become aware of the fact that this division has been a source of reproach. Thus many have been placing a great emphasis on the Bible teaching condemning division. This is good. However, emphasis also needs to be placed on the BIBLE answer to this problem of division. Many different schemes have been followed but each has failed to produce any real unity. This is mainly because of the fact that men are not willing to just accept God's plan for unity. They would rather walk by human opinion.

Human opinion always divides. God's will if it is followed will produce unity. In the Bible example that we noted last week we saw how that Cain walked by the opinion of man while Abel walked by faith. Abel did the things that God commanded.

This is the key to unity in religion. We will never be united until we recognize it and follow it. Let me show how that following human opinion in religion has produced division.

There is much division in religion over the so-called modes of baptism. One group practices sprinkling. Another group has pouring and still another believes in immersion. This division is well known to all people. Is God the author of this confusion? Did the Bible teach one group to sprinkle and another to pour and another to immerse? The answer to these questions is an emphatic NO. We are divided over human opinion. We need to walk by faith. Remember that faith comes by hearing the Word of God. Rom. 10:17. The Bible clearly describes baptism as a burial. Rom. 6:4. Paul says "buried by baptism" in Col. 2:12. The Bible describes baptism by telling of two people going down into the water. Acts 8:38. "... and they went down both into the water, both Philip and the eunuch; and he baptized him."

Does the Bible anywhere describe baptism as a sprinkling? Does it say any where that baptism is a pouring? The answer is no. What then are people doing when they practice these things? They are following human opinion. We can never be united on this human opinion.

We could be united if all would walk by faith. If all of us would just listen to the Word of God and then do it, we would be walking by faith. God would be pleased and we would all be doing exactly the same thing.

May God help us to study His Word and to have faith enough to obey it. You are invited to attend the services of the Church of Christ tomorrow.

The three - act play will be repeated again tonight at 7:45, with tickets available at the door.

Laughter prevailed from the first sip of the poisonous elderberry wine to the last toot of the bugle as the story unfolds of a family where insanity doesn't run, "it gallops."

Aileen Silverman was perfect in her role as Aunt Abby. Alex Cycyn, a little too pretty for an "old Aunt Martha" part, helped her sister in the disposal of 12 lonely gentlemen whom they claimed they put out of their misery as a favor.

—:—

MAC OGILVIE stole the show in the comedy role of Teddy Brewster, the nephew who imagined he was Teddy Roosevelt in complete charge of the Panama Canal burial site in the basement. His sprinting up the stairs and blowing of the bugle was a riot.

The part of Mortimer Brewster, the only sane member of the family, was well done by Bill Hopper, who, while being besieged with family troubles, was having some romantic problems with pretty Linda Alexander, his sweetheart who lived "just a cemetery away."

Dan Dupont played the brother with criminal tendencies who had as a sidekick a plastic surgeon, Len Yanni, providing the facial changes necessary to escape from the law.

—:—

The silent member of the cast, John Frederick, was "the body," spending most of his time in the window seat which hid the bodies until the proper services were held.

James R. Martin and H. Keith Langdon are the directors.

Music between acts was provided by the high school stage band under the direction of Donald Adams.

A MOMENT OF MEDITATION
Faith Or Opinion II

Last week we began a discussion with you concerning the subject of faith and opinion. We wish to make some further observations in our article today. The religious world today is divided. In recent years many have become aware of the fact that this division has been a source of reproach. Thus many have been placing a great emphasis on the Bible teaching condemning division. This is good. However, emphasis also needs to be placed on the BIBLE answer to this problem of division. Many different schemes have been followed but each has failed to produce any real unity. This is mainly because of the fact that men are not willing to just accept God's plan for unity. They would rather walk by human opinion.

Human opinion always divides. God's will if it is followed will produce unity. In the Bible example that we noted last week we saw how that Cain walked by the opinion of man while Abel walked by faith. Abel did the things that God commanded.

This is the key to unity in religion. We will never be united until we recognize it and follow it. Let me show how that following human opinion in religion has produced division.

There is much division in religion over the so-called modes of baptism. One group practices sprinkling. Another group has pouring and still another believes in immersion. This division is well known to all people. Is God the author of this confusion? Did the Bible teach one group to sprinkle and another to pour and another to immerse? The answer to these questions is an emphatic NO. We are divided over human opinion. We need to walk by faith. Remember that faith comes by hearing the Word of God. Rom. 10:17. The Bible clearly describes baptism as a burial. Rom. 6:4. Paul says "buried by baptism" in Col. 2:12. The Bible describes baptism by telling of two people going down into the water. Acts 8:38. " . . . and they went down both into the water, both Philip and the eunuch; and he baptized him."

Does the Bible anywhere describe baptism as a sprinkling? Does it say any where that baptism is a pouring? The answer is no. What then are people doing when they practice these things? They are following human opinion. We can never be united on this human opinion.

We could be united if all would walk by faith. If all of us would just listen to the Word of God and then do it, we would be walking by faith. God would be pleased and we would all be doing exactly the same thing.

May God help us to study His Word and to have faith enough to obey it. You are invited to attend the services of the Church of Christ tomorrow.

The City In 1988?

By ROBERT POPP

A model of downtown East Liverpool of the future, as it might appear from a high-flying airplane, is being constructed to help residents visualize the modernization proposed for the business district under a long-range "master plan."

The three dimensional scale model is being prepared by Daniel Ziegler II of the professional planning firm of Carroll V. Hill & Associates to show graphically the sweeping changes suggested for the central business district — including a traffic-free pedestrian mall and three multi-level parking garages.

East Liverpool residents will have an opportunity to examine the model in detail within a month or two, probably as an adjunct to the final technical report the Hill concern will turn over to the City Planning Commission, summing up its findings and conclusions for the community's future.

The model's base is 40-x-40 inches overall. The built-up areas representing buildings have a maximum height of four inches. They're constructed of balsa, the light wood used by model plane builders.

The renovation proposed for the central business district is designed to increase its efficiency and attractiveness and allow downtown East Liverpool to retain its competitive position in comparison with other types of shopping facilities.

THE HILL CONCERN'S initial report on future development of the business area was presented to the Planning Commission in September 1965. The model is styled to explain the developments recommended in the first report, with minor changes that have evolved in the meantime. A map attached to the model will allow the public to relate the plan to the business area as it is now.

In the most sweeping change, 5th St. between Jackson St. and Washington St. would be closed to all vehicular traffic and parking and beautified with plantings and other landscaping to become a quiet mall for unhurried use of pedestrians.

Washington St. between E. 5th St. and Broadway also would be converted into a mall, set off with a modernistic "restaurant in the round" at the junction of Washington St. and Broadway.

Steep, rutted Union St. also would be set aside solely for pedestrian use, with its grade eased by a series of terraces.

Buildings at the southeast and southwest corners of Market and 5th Sts. would come down and would be converted into "parklets" which eventually would merge with the mall.

The plan calls for eventual construction of three multi-level parking garages — one on the site of what is now the Ceramic and Travelers Hotel parking lots on E. 4th St.; another in the area bounded by the Diamond and E. 6th St. and the third fronting on W. 4th St. at Jackson St. and extending northward to the mall on W. 5th St.

A "VISITOR'S information center" would be set up on the mall at Market St. It would include frequently-changed displays of ceramics, historical items, exhibits of Indian and Ohio River lore and other attractions. The plan envisions that Peach Alley and Crook Alley would be reserved for pedestrian traffic to allow shoppers to move quickly from one part of the business district to another. Summit Ln. and Drury Ln. would be used to give rear access to business houses for shipping and receiving, as they are now.

Also proposed is the making of a "parklet" of the parking lot at the northeast corner of 3rd and Market Sts. and establishing several more off-street lots on the fringes of the business area. One would be on E. 4th St., on the site of Central School, and another would face Broadway just below E. 4th St.

The plan suggests that the business area eventually will extend south to the north line of 3rd St. It contemplates a series of small shops on E. and W. 4th Sts. at Market St. and a new motel and apartments on 3rd St., close to the proposed eastward extension of the Freeway.

Apartment buildings are contemplated on E. 6th St., just west of Broadway, and on the south side of W. 4th St., near Jackson St.

ZIEGLER SAID construction of the model represents "many hours" of work, but he added he did not keep exact track of the time. The model was built in his home after the end of his usual work day.

Photographs were taken when the construction of the model was well under way, but before finishing touches such as painting had been applied.

Here's how the mall was pictured in the report on modernization of the business district:

"The mall itself would be a combination of pavement and landscaping. The pavements should vary — brick, cobblestone, concrete slabs of differing designs and surface effects. Paved areas would weave between planting areas of different sizes and shape with varying combinations of flowers, shrubs, trees, grass and other kinds of ground cover.

"Permanent seating areas should be provided throughout the mall adjacent to the landscaped areas. Well-designed lighting fixtures should be spotted throughout the mall. Other features including sculptures, fountains, children's play equipment and exhibition spaces should be worked into the overall design to add interest.

"Soft background music also would help to create an appealing atmosphere. The various building along the mall would be connected by covered walkways to protect shoppers from the sun, rain and snow. The finishing touch — life — would be furnished by the hundreds of people milling along the covered walkways, window shopping or scurrying from one place to another while others chat with friends or merely sit and enjoy the pleasant surroundings.

"THE VISITOR information center at the southeast corner of the mall on Market St. could feature permanent displays on pottery-making and monthly displays of historic and scenic points of interest within the East Liverpool area — the river, Indian relics and geology."

The report also discussed the all-important implementation of such plans — making them a reality.

"Imagination and ingenuity as well as the expenditure of time, effort and money are necessary ingredients for the achievement of the various plan proposals. The dollars and cents projection of the total cost for any project is a cold, hard figure when it is isolated from the reality of why it is being spent, what its immediate and long-range benefits may be and how it is to be financed.

"It is necessary to point out here that there are many avenues of approach toward the implementation of the renewal plan. The expenditure of public funds by means of local taxation, accompanied with the optimistic speculation for matching private investment does not present the entire picture.

"Many programs have been developed by both federal and state governments to assist localities in major undertakings such as road improvements, urban redevelopment and rehabilitation and conservation. These programs have been designed to give localities the opportunity of implementing large scale improvement programs that would be impossible with local resources alone.

"OF COURSE, financial grants are not handed out indiscriminately and funds are limited. In order to qualify for assistance, a community must demonstrate that it is sincerely interested in self-improvement and that it is ready to accept the responsibilities inherent in such large undertakings.

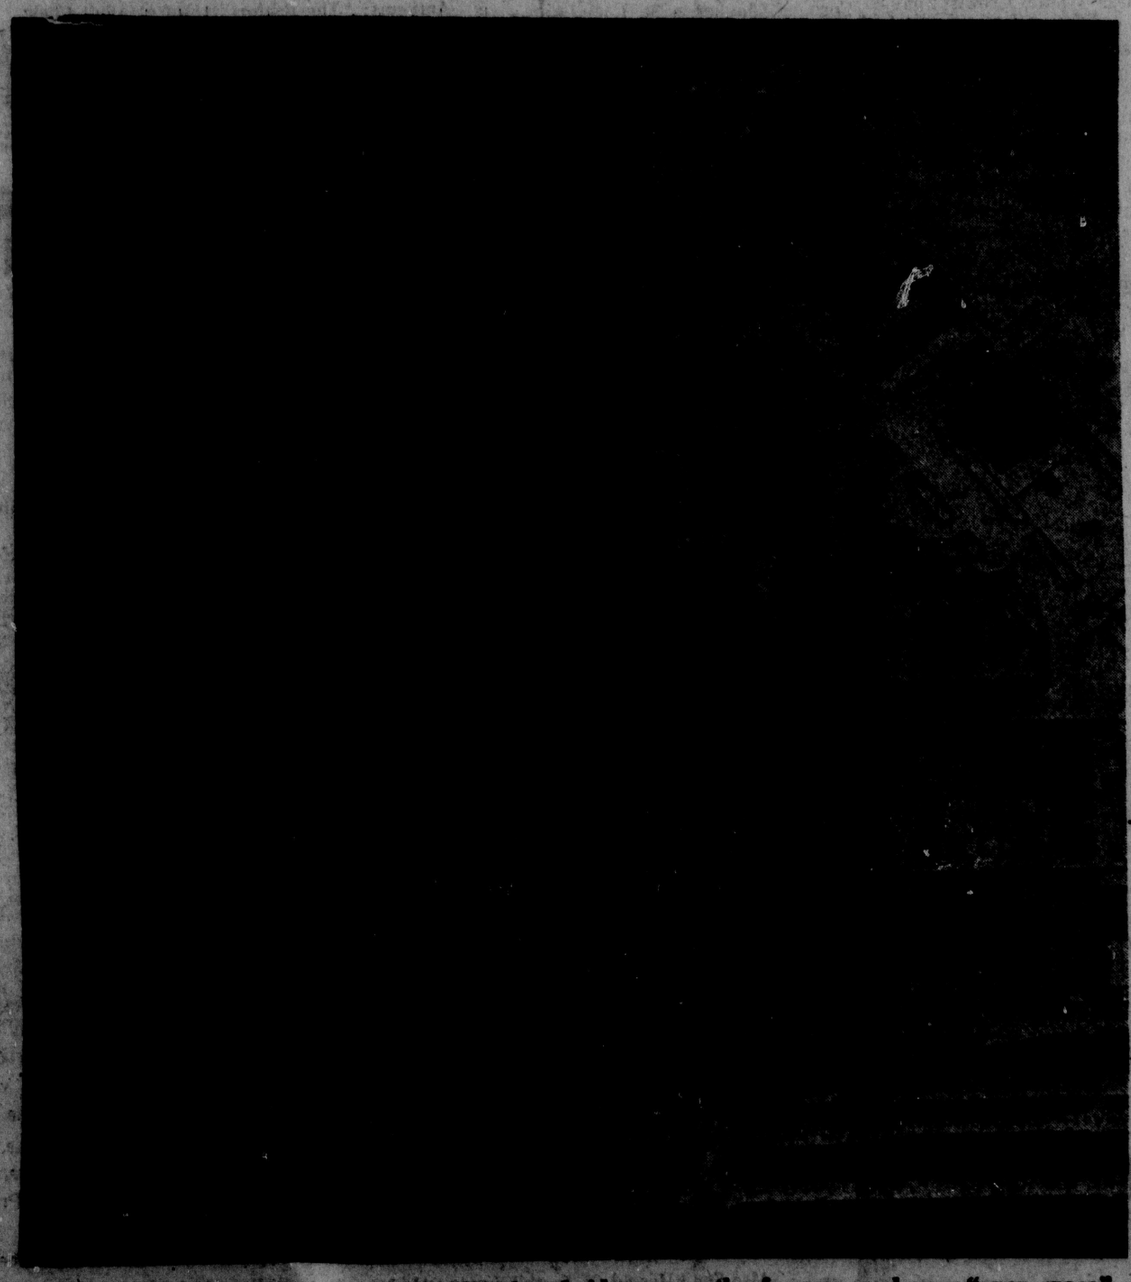

"Citizen support for these endeavors must also be indicated in order for the community to qualify for federal or state assistance. These grants are a national investment at the grass roots level in the belief that strong, healthy and vigorous communities will create a better national image.

"Industry also is becoming increasingly interested in the quality and character of the environment in which its labor market lives and plays. It is not unusual for corporations to contribute jointly to important community improvements because of a sincere interest in the community and also for the 'image' and advertising value.

"Private manufacturers likewise are impressed and encouraged by sincere displays of community effort and determination."

The proposed 5th St. mall, the Freeway extension and ramps and other projection of building plans are seen in this overhead view of the table model.

Multi-level parking garages, pedestrian bridges over the freeway and new "open space" areas of the city's downtown are features of this angled photograph of the planning model.

Lady Luck-Fickle Gal

NEW YORK—Think you can win the Irish Sweepstakes? Wanna bet? The odds are 60,000 to one against you! Don't turn away—that's what makes horse racing!

The world of odds is rich in figures and interesting probabilities. For instance, tossing a coin should give you a more sporting chance to break even. Suppose you try to make a coin fall heads up 50 consecutive times. Sound like a silly thing to do? You bet! It would take a million men tossing coins 10 times a minute, 40 hours a week to pull this off once within the next 900 years!

Perhaps bridge is your game. Stop dreaming of that perfect hand! In order to get all 13 cards of the same suit, you would have to overcome odds of 158,753,389,899-to-one!

CHANGE YOUR luck with a game of poker? Odds are fairly good that you'll at least pull a straight—a mere 254-to-one against you!

You might even get a flush, since the odds are still a measly 508-to-one. But don't get caught chasing "Royal flushes"—odds are 649,739-to-one you won't find any! Four of a kind? Odds are much better, but you'll still have a rough time at 4,165-to-one!

There are 36 possible combinations in dice—only one of which can give you snake eyes. That gives a probability of one in 36 that you'll rock the boat with such a toss. But even if you should get snake eyes 100 times in a row, the probability of getting it on roll 101 is still one in 36!

Chances of marriage? Well, marriage in itself can be a gamble! But there are definite odds regarding men and women coming together with a hitch! A girl has 78 chances in 100 of marrying at 25. By 30, her chances are 55 out of 100.

A man's chances of mating are somewhat better! At 30, he still has 72 chances in 100 of finding a wife, and the odds don't turn against him until the age of 35, when he has slightly less than one chance in two of marrying. (A woman of the same age faces three-to-one odds against such a proposal!)

ALREADY MARRIED? Theoretical odds against having twins are 90-to-one. The odds against a threesome are 9,000, to-one. Quads? 900,000-to-one. Quints? Forget it! 90,000,000-to-one says you won't repeat the accomplishment of Papa and Mama Dionne!

One probability is that if an infinite number of chimps sat at an infinite number of pianos for eternity, one of them would come up with the silly millimeter cigarette jingle.

But the odds are just as good that they'd discover Beethoven's Fifth first.

Whatever else its function, the average prescription has a marked reducing effect on the wallet.

Go to the busiest man in the plant and get something done. It won't get done, but you'll feel better than if the company loafer failed to do it for you.

THE HILL CONCERN'S initial report on future development of the business area was presented to the Planning Commission in September 1965. The model is styled to explain the developments recommended in the first report, with minor changes that have evolved in the meantime. A map attached to the model will allow the public to relate the plan to the business area as it is now.

In the most sweeping change, 5th St. between Jackson St. and Washington St. would be closed to all vehicular traffic and parking and beautified with plantings and other landscaping to become a quiet mall for unhurried use of pedestrians.

Washington St. between E. 5th St. and Broadway also would be converted into a mall, set off with a modernistic "restaurant in the round" at the junction of Washington St. and Broadway.

Steep, rutted Union St. also would be set aside solely for pedestrian use, with its grade eased by a series of terraces.

Buildings at the southeast and southwest corners of Market and 5th Sts. would come down and would be converted into "parklets" which eventually would merge with the mall.

The plan calls for eventual construction of three multi-level parking garages — one on the site of what is now the Ceramic and Travelers Hotel parking lots on E. 4th St.; another in the area bounded by the Diamond and E. 6th St. and the third fronting on W. 4th St. at Jackson St. and extending northward to the mall on W. 5th St.

A "VISITOR'S information center" would be set up on the mall at Market St. It would include frequently-changed displays of ceramics, historical items, exhibits of Indian and Ohio River lore and other attractions. The plan envisions that Peach Alley and Crook Alley would be reserved for pedestrian traffic to allow shoppers to move quickly from one part of the business district to another. Summit Ln. and Drury Ln. would be used to give rear access to business houses for shipping and receiving, as they are now.

Also proposed is the making of a "parklet" of the parking lot at the northeast corner of 3rd and Market Sts. and establishing several more off-street lots on the fringes of the business area. One would be on E. 4th St., on the site of Central School, and another would face Broadway just below E. 4th St.

The plan suggests that the business area eventually will extend south to the north line of 3rd St. It contemplates a series of small shops on E. and W. 4th Sts. at Market St. and a new motel and apartments on 3rd St., close to the proposed eastward extension of the Freeway.

Apartment buildings are contemplated on E. 6th St., just west of Broadway, and on the south side of W. 4th St., near Jackson St.

ZIEGLER SAID construction of the model represents "many hours" of work, but he added he did not keep exact track of the time. The model was built in his home after the end of his usual work day.

Photographs were taken when the construction of the model was well under way, but before finishing touches such as painting had been applied.

Here's how the mall was pictured in the report on modernization of the business district:

"The mall itself would be a combination of pavement and landscaping. The pavements should vary — brick, cobblestone, concrete slabs of differing designs and surface effects. Paved areas would weave between planting areas of different sizes and shape with varying combinations of flowers, shrubs, trees, grass and other kinds of ground cover.

"Permanent seating areas should be provided throughout the mall adjacent to the landscaped areas. Well-designed lighting fixtures should be spotted throughout the mall. Other features including sculptures, fountains, children's play equipment and exhibition spaces should be worked into the overall design to add interest.

"Soft background music also would help to create an appealing atmosphere. The various building along the mall would be connected by covered walkways to protect shoppers from the sun, rain and snow. The finishing touch — life — would be furnished by the hundreds of people milling along the covered walkways, window shopping or scurrying from one place to another while others chat with friends or merely sit and enjoy the pleasant surroundings.

"THE VISITOR information center at the southeast corner of the mall on Market St. could feature permanent displays on pottery-making and monthly displays of historic and scenic points of interest within the East Liverpool area — the river, Indian relics and geology."

The report also discussed the all-important implementation of such plans — making them a reality.

"Imagination and ingenuity as well as the expenditure of time, effort and money are necessary ingredients for the achievement of the various plan proposals. The dollars and cents projection of the total cost for any project is a cold, hard figure when it is isolated from the reality of why it is being spent, what its immediate and long-range benefits may be and how it is to be financed.

"It is necessary to point out here that there are many avenues of approach toward the implementation of the renewal plan. The expenditure of public funds by means of local taxation, accompanied with the optimistic speculation for matching private investment does not present the entire picture.

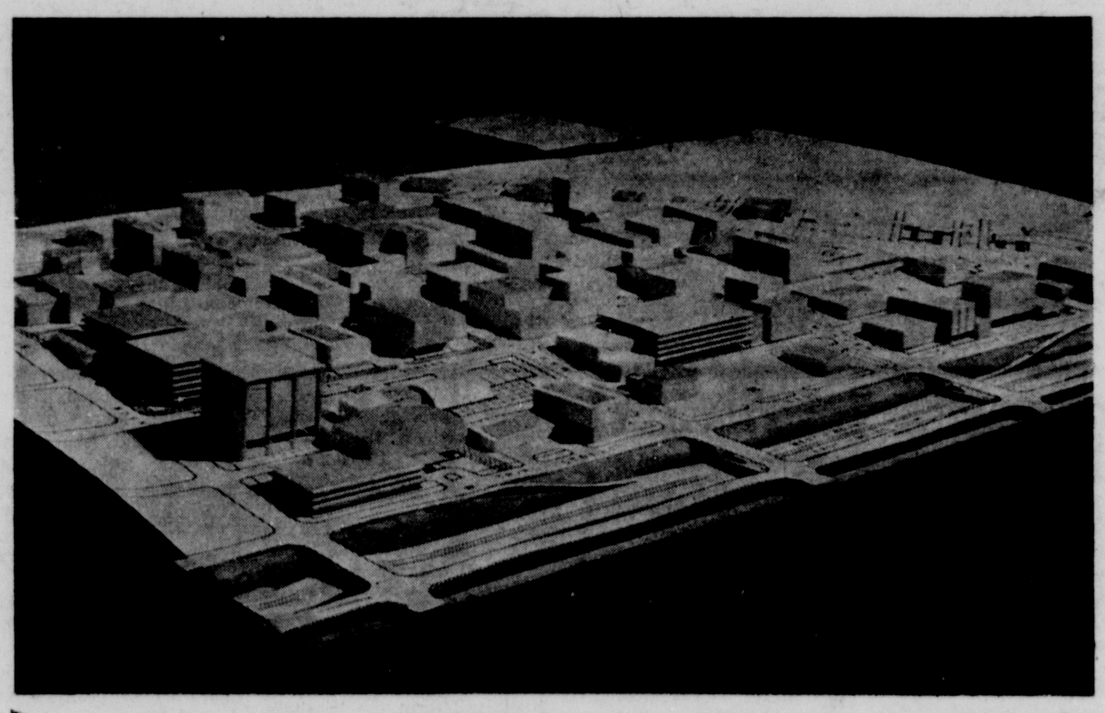

"Many programs have been developed by both federal and state governments to assist localities in major undertakings such as road improvements, urban redevelopment and rehabilitation and conservation. These programs have been designed to give localities the opportunity of implementing large scale improvement programs that would be impossible with local resources alone.

"OF COURSE, financial grants are not handed out indiscriminately and funds are limited. In order to qualify for assistance, a community must demonstrate that it is sincerely interested in self-improvement and that it is ready to accept the responsibilities inherent in such large undertakings.

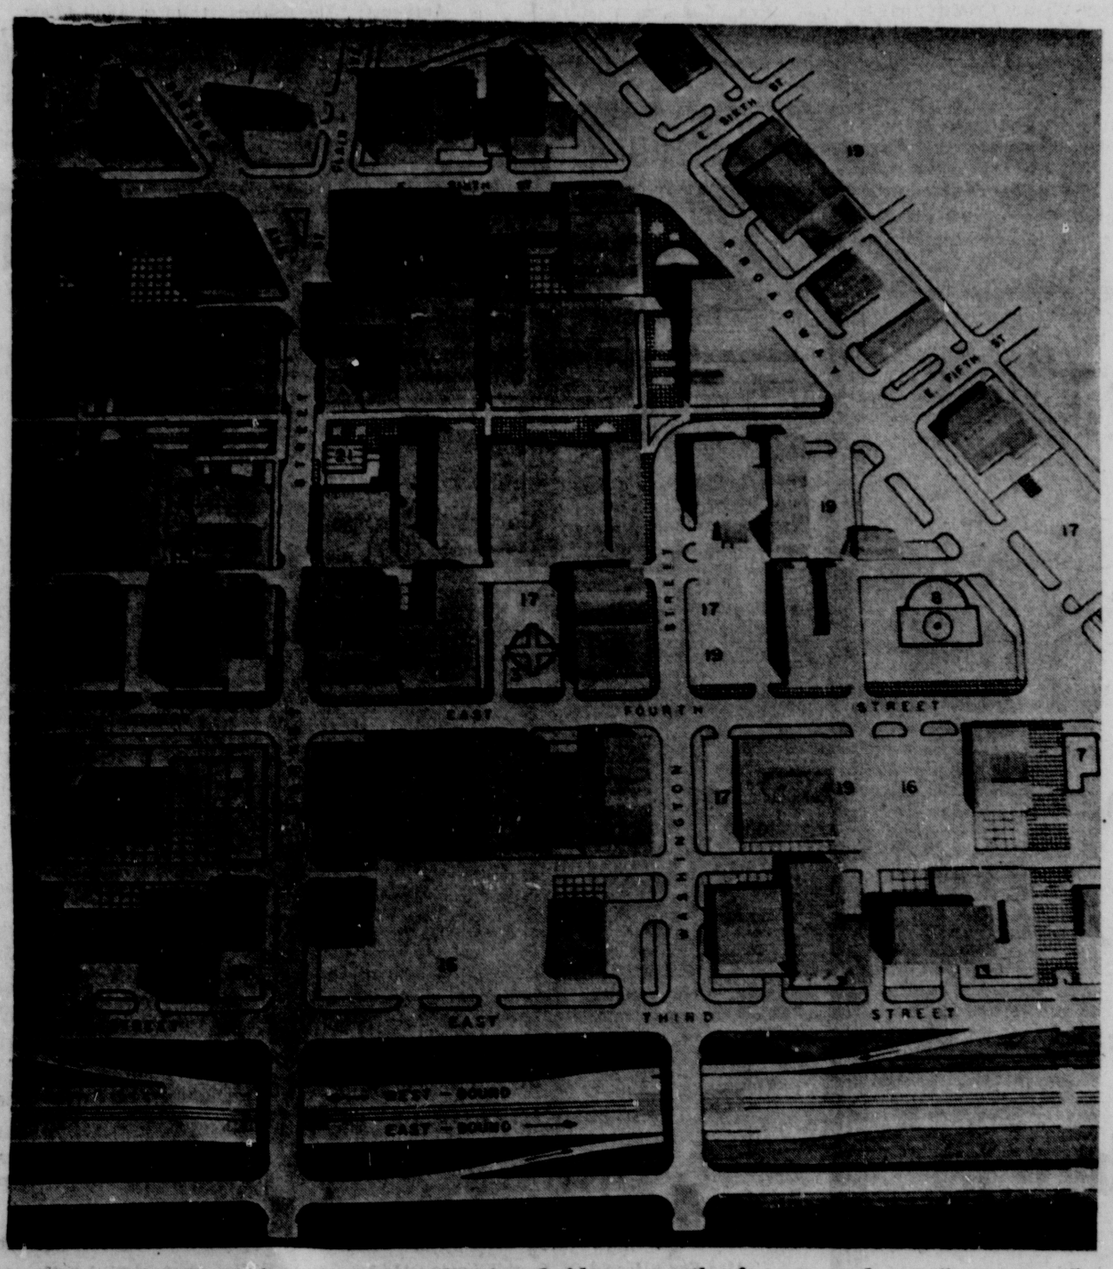

"Citizen support for these endeavors must also be indicated in order for the community to qualify for federal or state assistance. These grants are a national investment at the grass roots level in the belief that strong, healthy and vigorous communities will create a better national image.

"Industry also is becoming increasingly interested in the quality and character of the environment in which its labor market lives and plays. It is not unusual for corporations to contribute jointly to important community improvements because of a sincere interest in the community and also for the 'image' and advertising value.

"Private manufacturers likewise are impressed and encouraged by sincere displays of community effort and determination."

The proposed 5th St. mall, the Freeway extension and ramps and other projection of building plans are seen in this overhead view of the table model.

Multi-level parking garages, pedestrian bridges over the freeway and new "open space" areas of the city's downtown are features of this angled photograph of the planning model.

Lady Luck-Fickle Gal

NEW YORK—Think you can win the Irish Sweepstakes? Wanna bet? The odds are 60,000 to one against you! Don't turn away—that's what makes horse racing!

The world of odds is rich in figures and interesting probabilities. For instance, tossing a coin should give you a more sporting chance to break even. Suppose you try to make a coin fall heads up 50 consecutive times. Sound like a silly thing to do? You bet! It would take a million men tossing coins 10 times a minute, 40 hours a week to pull this off once within the next 900 years!

Perhaps bridge is your game. Stop dreaming of that perfect hand! In order to get all 13 cards of the same suit, you would have to overcome odds of 158,753,389,899-to-one!

CHANGE YOUR luck with a game of poker? Odds are fairly good that you'll at least pull a straight—a mere 254-to-one against you!

You might even get a flush, since the odds are still a measly 508-to-one. But don't get caught chasing "Royal flushes"—odds are 649,739-to-one you won't find any! Four of a kind? Odds are much better, but you'll still have a rough time at 4,165-to-one!

There are 36 possible combinations in dice—only one of which can give you snake eyes. That gives a probability of one in 36 that you'll rock the boat with such a toss. But even if you should get snake eyes 100 times in a row, the probability of getting it on roll 101 is still one in 36!

Chances of marriage? Well, marriage in itself can be a gamble! But there are definite odds regarding men and women coming together with a hitch! A girl has 78 chances in 100 of marrying at 25. By 30, her chances are 55 out of 100.

A man's chances of mating are somewhat better! At 30, he still has 72 chances in 100 of finding a wife, and the odds don't turn against him until the age of 35, when he has slightly less than one chance in two of marrying. (A woman of the same age faces three-to-one odds against such a proposal!)

ALREADY MARRIED? Theoretical odds against having twins are 90-to-one. The odds against a threesome are 9,000-to-one. Quads? 900,000-to-one. Quints? Forget it! 90,000,000-to-one says you won't repeat the accomplishment of Papa and Mama Dionne!

One probability is that if an infinite number of chimps sat at an infinite number of pianos for eternity, one of them would come up with the silly millimeter cigarette jingle.

But the odds are just as good that they'd discover Beethoven's Fifth first.

Barbs

There's usually plenty of space available for people who let success go to their heads.

Whatever else its function, the average prescription has a marked reducing effect on the wallet.

There are over 500,000 accountants in the United States, most of them, apparently, engaged in checking our charge account due dates.

If you complain enough about your job, something will be done — and you'll then be free to look for a new one.

Go to the busiest man in the plant and get something done. It won't get done, but you'll feel better than if the company loafer failed to do it for you.

A new law was adopted in Pennsylvania during March that is worthy of notice. It calls for mandatory hunting safety training for anyone under 16.

Hunters under this age who have never possessed a hunting license will be required to complete a hunter safety training course before being eligible for a license after Sept. 1.

The Game Commission announced this week that plans are well underway to make the training available to all who will be required to take the course.

First-time hunting license applicants under 16 must complete the course in the handling of firearms and bows and arrows as approved by the National Rifle Association. There will be no charge.

Information will be furnished license — issuing agents on the requirements of the program and the list of certified instructors. District game protectors will be responsible for supervising the training in their areas. More than 5,000 instructors have already been certified.

SCHOOLS, SPORTSMEN'S clubs, civic groups and other organizations cooperate in scheduling and presenting hunting safety training.

Pennsylvania is the 15th state to make training mandatory. Cards are issued those who successfully complete the classes. Youths who have already completed such training and have a card certifying their qualifications are exempt from the program.

Safety training has been provided in Pennsylvania on a voluntary basis since 1958. About 150,000 have been certified through the voluntary program. Last year 32,741 completed the course.

There are nearly 100,000 hunters in Pennsylvania under 16. Studies indicate there will be some 35,000 youths required to complete the course each year.

OHIO ALSO HAS a very commendable safety training program, but it is on a voluntary basis.

Several classes have been conducted in Columbiana and Jefferson Counties. Most were handled through high schools. Ralph Drake, Columbiana County game protector, was involved in the program last fall and says even girls sucessfully completed the training.

Hunter safety training is needed. Even adults should be required to pass some sort of a safety program.

Ohio officials would do well to consider a mandatory program. Such programs go a long way in cutting down hunting mishaps.

In the meantime, sportsmen should urge youngsters to take advantage of the fine training offered in Ohio. It's free. And it could save a life.

THERE IS A LIMIT! West Virginia has a credibility gap — and it's not located between two mountains.

A spokesman for the Natural Resources Department said Friday a "record?" fish had been taken from the Big Coal River, south of Charleston.

It was a "largemouth trout, caught by Arlen Ash of Tornado, W. Va., that was 10 inches long and weighed 24 pounds."

That would not only be a state record, but a world record. What did he do, roll it home? Or could it be some of that famous "mountain dew" caused the tongue to reverse the figures?"

GET YOUR TACKLE READY. Fishing on the local scene is slow, but picking up momentum about every day.

A few bass are being taken in Beaver Creek, where the spring sucker run has started. The catfish also are biting. The best bait is worms.

Several nice suckers have been caught the past week along with some dandy catfish.

Fishermen also are scoring in the backwaters of the Ohio River along the West Virginia shore, near New Cumberland, where the bass have moved into the shallows.

The Ohio Division of Wildlife is well into the annual netting program in Pymatuning, Berling, Milton and Tappan Lakes. Walleyes caught in the nets are stripped of their eggs and returned to the water.

Officials say they are having very good success this year.

The walleyes at Tappan have been averaging 24 to 25 inches, which is bragging size. The largest netted was 30 inches, while the smallest was 19. The surprise is that while the walleyes are turning up in the nets, fishermen are only catching a few crappies.

At Leesville Lake, the muskies and bass have started moving.

Try your luck. And don't forget to obtain a fishing license, no matter what state you are in.

CONSERVATION WORK. The Ohio Power Co. has started its annual spring planting of tree seedlings on mined and unminded areas in Guernsey, Noble, Morgan and Muskingum Counties.

Walter D. Smith, the company reclamation supervisor at McConnelsville, said the plantings are part of a long range program which started before surface mine legislation came into effect. Ohio Power's program in the area has gained national recognition.

Some 1,250,000 seedlings are being used this year. When they are planted — 1,200,000 on mine banks and 50,000 on unmined fields — the company will have planted 24,350,000 tree seedlings on 24,350 acres of land during the past 24 years.

More than 75 per cent grow to maturity. Hardwood varieties are planted on the mine banks and softwoods in the open fields.

The reclamation project also has resulted in the development of 314 lakes of varying sizes. Many are stocked with bass, pickerel, catfish and bluegills. The Ohio Department of Natural Resources cooperated in the stocking program.

Also established are dozen campsite areas capable of handling more than 300 tents and trailers.

The National Campers and Hikers Association will spend the weekend of April 26-28 at the camping grounds.

SHE HAS THE SECRET. Mrs. Dorothy Kukich of 54-D Midland Heights, Midland, comes from Minnesota and really knows the combination for catching trout.

She landed a 17-inch rainbow Tuesday afternoon at Hereford Manor, a private lake near Zelienople. She made two casts and hooked the fish on the second one. Dorothy has been having good luck at the lake. Others fishing the same waters are getting skunked and several have been asking for her secret.

Dorothy brags she was a "good fisherwoman" in Minnesota, but gave it up when she moved to Midland 20 years ago. She took up the sport again last summer for relaxation. She uses all artificial lures, shying from "lowly worms."

To top off the day, Doorthy cleaned the fish herself, a chore most women wouldn't do.

TROUT SEASON opens in public waters next Saturday at 5 a.m. in Pennsylvania. The state has stocked 1,857,555 combined species of trout in 4,790 miles of streams and 4,600 acres of trout lakes.

More than a half million fishermen are expected out on opening day, so you better get to your favorite spot early.

FOREST FIRE DAMAGE. Destruction of West Virginia forests by fire continues to be a serious problem.

During the week ending March 21, 174 fires consumed over 2,000 acres of land. The current fire season started Jan. 1 and since, 9,574 acres have been lost to woods fires. Counties in the eastern part of the state have the lowest fire record.

NEW BUSINESS. Interest in the outdoors is growing by leaps and bounds. Proof of this in the Tri-State district is the opening of two new businesses designed to supply the needs of outdoor fans.

In East Liverpool, Matheny Marine on Lisbon St. Ext. has an extensive line of boats, motors, marine supplies and fishing equipment. It is operated by Joe Matheny, whose interest in the outdoors led him into the operation.

In nearby Beaver County, Outdoors Unlimited is holding its grand opening, boasting the largest indoor showroom for camping and outdoor supplies in the Tri-State area.

It is located on Route 18 — Big Beaver Blvd. — about four miles north of Beaver Falls.

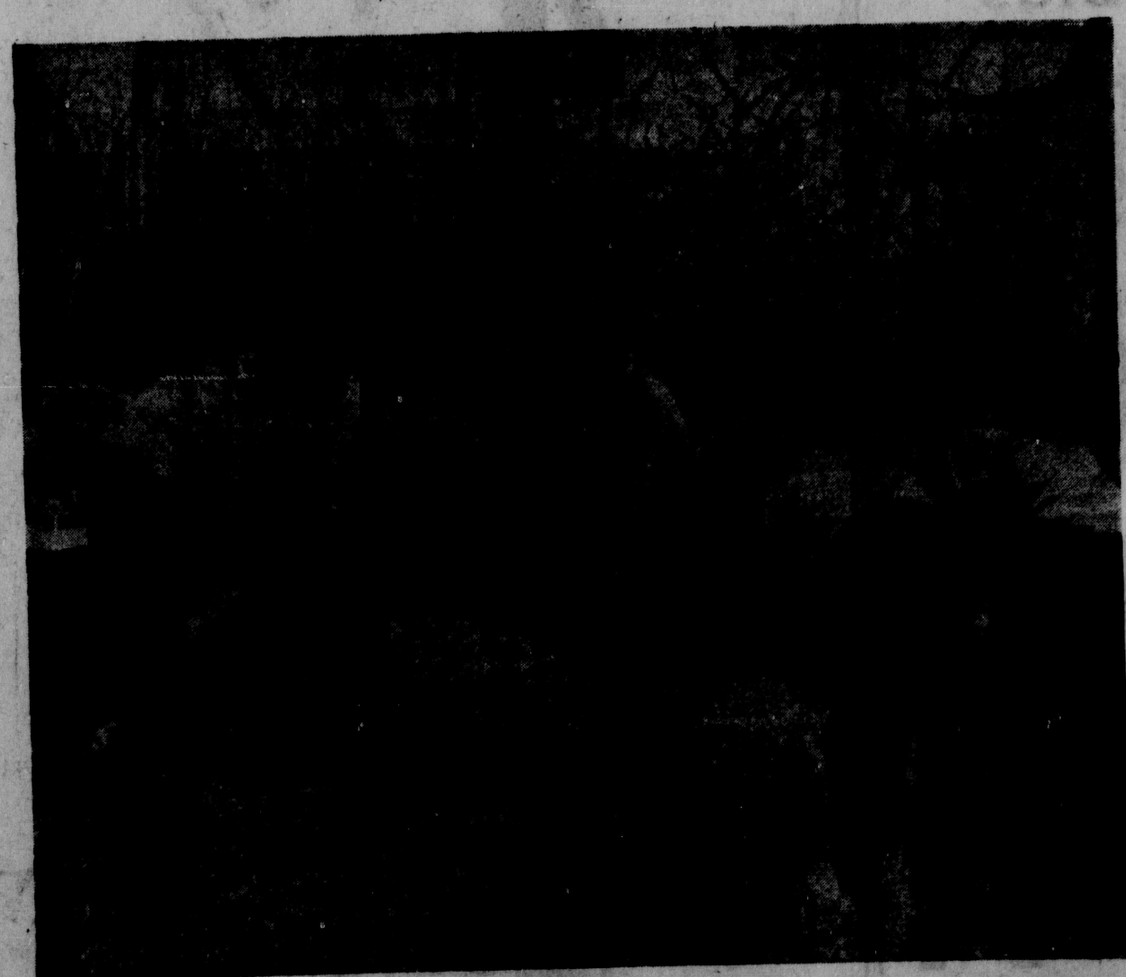

George Greer and Ed Ackerman, operators, are avid campers and members of the National Campers and Hikers Association. They said the store hours will be 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily. They are displaying sporting goods, fishing accessories, travel accessories, and camping and trailer accessories.

COHO LAWS. Jesse Weaver, District III wildlife supervisor, says Ohio anglers should familiarize themselves with the regulation concerning Ohio's new sport fish, coho salmon.

The fish will be introduced shortly into some of the streams bordering Lake Erie. The regulations pertaining to this fish are as follows:

"It shall be unlawful for any person to take or possess a coho salmon less than 12 inches from Lake Erie or its tributaries, to possess or take more than three coho salmon, also it shall be unlawful for any person to sell or offer for sale coho salmon or any part thereof taken from the waters in this state."

Weaver added that coho salmon can be taken only by hook and line.

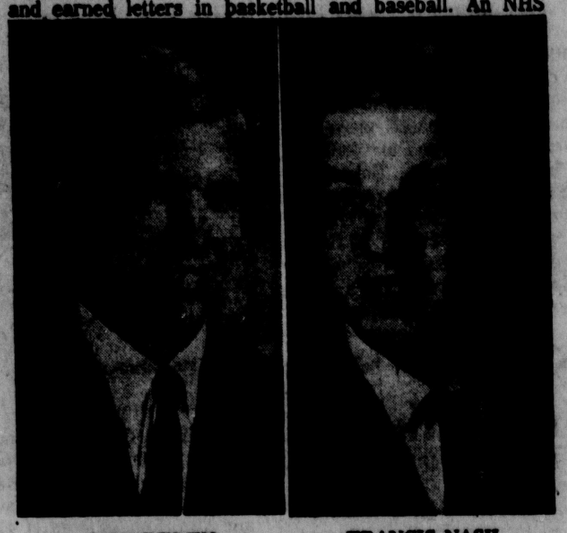

ON THEIR WAY. Some 25,000 Coho salmon fingerlings were released into the East Branch of the Chagrin River Wednesday, marking the start of their down-river migration to Lake Erie. Ohio Division of Wildlife officials are shown opening the pond, near Kirkland, where the fingerlings were placed to establish an imprint on their homing instincts. A few males will return this fall, but the first true spawning run should occur late in the fall of 1969 when the Cohoes will turn a deep red color and return to the point where they were released. They will have grown to 15 to 20 pounds by then.

The Younger Set

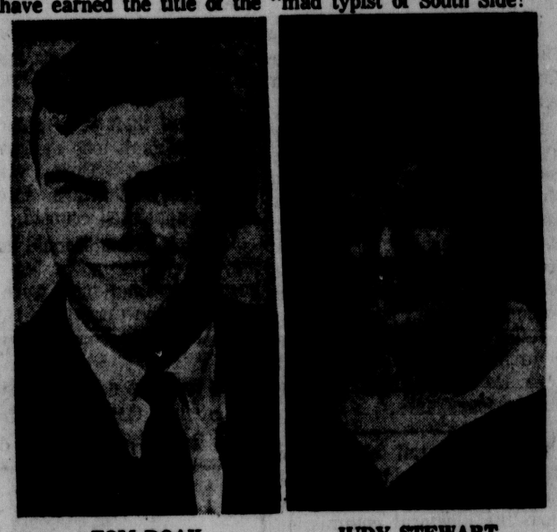

Four students from South Side have earned a place in the "Who's Who Among American High School Students" and top billing in this column. Chosen because of an athletic or academic bent or leadership qualities, the four deserve a tip of the hat from their comrades.

FRANCIS NASH — Number one student in his class, he has held office in Student Council, the Varsity Club and his class, served as co-captain of the basketball team, and earned letters in basketball and baseball. An NHS member, he plans to enter either Bucknell or Pitt in the fall, majoring in engineering. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Nash of Georgetown . . . RONALD PEDEN—He was a forward for the school's varsity basketball team, and was voted the most valuable football and basketball player in Beaver County and in the WPIAL. A four-year letterman in baseball, he also serves as vice president of his home room. Ron has also maintained honor roll standing throughout the 67-68 year! Though the place is not definite, Ron's got his heart set on a major in Physical Education. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Peden of Aliquippa RD 1 . . . JUDY STEWART — Editor-in-chief of the '68 yearbook and junior editor of last year's edition, Judy might well have earned the title of the "mad typist of South Side!"

TOM DOAK JUDY STEWART

She also serves as a member of the staff of the school newspaper (The Ram's Horn), concentrating on feature writing. Past vice president of her class, she is active in the French and Pep Clubs and Tri-Hi Y. She played a major in speech and drama at Penn State in the fall. She poetry and short stories and oil painting. She expects to major in speech and daram at Penn State in the fall. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Stewart of Georgetown RD 1 . . . LAST BUT NOT LEAST, THOMAS DOAK — class president in his junior and senior years, Tom also is vice-president of the Varsity club and a member of the Student Council. He is a four-year letterman in baseball and has received letters in basketball and football (He played guard and quarterback, respectively.) A son of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. Wayne Doak Sr., Tom resides with Mr. and Mrs. Francis Doak Jr. of Hookstown. He plans to major in history, though hasn't quite decided on the school . . . MEANWHILE THE PLEBIANS — Everyone in the senior class seems to be trying to earn an award for good behavior. The class was having difficulties trying to find chaperones or sponsors for the senior trip (hopefully planned for Washington, D. C.) 'cause no one wants to be responsible . . . Anyway, they're all on good behavior until they get what they want . . . "DOUBLE, DOUBLE, TOIL AND TROUBLE"—Apparently the three witches of Macbeth have stepped from the pages of Shakespeare for a closer look at a swinging high school. They're causing havoc throughout the cafeteria by creating bubbles in the flooring from HEAT, whistling through the radiators (try eating lunch to "Mack, the Knife" sometime . . . ech!) It's easy to blow your cool at lunch cause you almost take a sauna bath daily! Really now, what's a person to do?

SHOW TIME! — The East Liverpool seniors in the play cast made their debut last night in a wild production of "Arsenic and Old Lace." It was a great job — one you shouldn't miss . . . and you won't if you get dressed and hurry down to Westgate auditorium tonight at 7:45 for the final performance! . . . DOES FATHER KNOW BEST? — The Nike Club will find out at a Father-Daughter banquet Monday night in the Traveler's Hotel. Their method will be similar to that used on the television show, "Newlywed Game." It will be interesting to know just how much

"Daddy" has learned in all these years . . . "LOVERS LEAP" — The Student Council — a resourceful bunch — has come up with a takeoff from leap frog for the leap year dance—"Lovers Leap." Since this joyous occasion (depending on how successful the gals are . . .) can only occur every four years, the dance April 20 is really something special. Some lucky guy will be crowned (with a top hat) and reign as "Leap Year King". This could be the start of something big . . . DON'T MISS — The annual student-faculty game will be held Wednesday. Battling it out will be the Boys Intramural champions, "Stepien's Sluggers," and the "Faulty" faculty. One of the swingin'est assemblies all year, this affair has some really "special" cheerleaders!

HAVE A BALL Friday night was really for Wellsville Band members and guests during an annual Military Ball with the great "American Breed!" . . . FAMOUS FACULTY — The famous faculty of Wellsville defeated the students 19 to 15 in a game last Friday. The cheerleaders were beautiful in wigs, boots, stockings and a few other items to "round" them out. They were Tom Wolski, Tom Hanlon, Steve Betz, Terry Ewing and Clarence Wymer.

SPRING STYLES — With spring coming Lincoln High gals at Midland seem to favor shirt dresses . . . COLLEGE BOUND? - College boards scores are in and some students look "down and out . . ." LUNCHEON CRUNCH'IN, SPANIK? — Guys and gals here have an opportunity to see Gary Spanik in the driver's training car every Tuesday at lunch time. He seems to be having a problem stopping the car without a "jerk."

STUDENTS-FACULTY — The senior boys and the faculty at Western Beaver High clashed recently in a wild basketball game. The students won. The gals played the women faculty members later . . . LONGO AND KELKER SPOKE — A chemistry class recently was studying steel. Handy enough, Rocco Longo of the Blast Furnace Dept. and Robert Kelker of the Open Hearth of the Midland Division of the Crucible Steel Co. provided local insight into the steel industry in this area . . . THOUGHT PROCESSES — An unusual English assignment — first listening to recorded music then writing about the reactions — was a grand experience for some of Western's students.

You And The Law

"I think I'll try a hand at selling stocks and bonds," Ned said to his friend Al.

"Well, good luck. There are a lot of things to learn before you do anything like that," Al replied.

So what's the problem in selling stocks? When I was looking through the window of the stock broker's office yesterday, it looked pretty simple to me. I'm pretty good at arithmetic and I keep an eye on the stock listings," Ned said.

"And you must be keeping your head in a bucket, too," Al retorted. "You have to be licensed to sell stocks. There are a lot of rules and regulations in the area of selling securities such as stocks and bonds," Al commented.

"WHY ALL the fuss about selling stocks and bonds?" Ned asked.

"Securities may represent a sizable investment for a person. Unless the buyer knows what he's doing, he might lose a lot of money. On the other hand, an unscrupulous broker could make a real bundle and leave the buyer holding worthless paper," Al answered.

Most persons are familiar with the fact that there is such a thing as the "stock market," but often have little knowledge about its workings. To protect the buyer, as well as the honest stock broker and the companies involved, securities are strictly regulated by the Ohio Division of Securities or the federal Securities and Exchange Commission, or both, depending on how the securities are sold.

Basically, a security is any certificate or other legal instrument which represents title to or an interest in the capital, assets, profits or credit of any person, corporation or partnership.

UNDER THE regulations in Ohio, an unlicensed dealer may be subject to a fine of $5,000 or imprisonment from one to five years. The same penalty also applies to a person knowingly selling an unregistered security which is required to be registered, or selling the securities of an insolvent issuer with the knowledge of the insolvency.

A broker who, without the right to do so, pledges, sells, or disposes of securities belonging to a customer, and the customer suffers a loss is subject to a fine of $10,000 and from one to 10 years in prison.

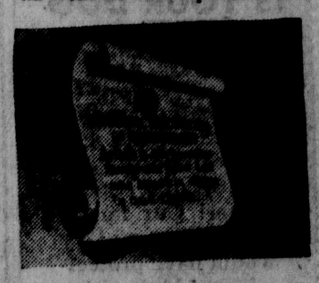

"So you see Ned, selling securities isn't a simple thing. It takes some real know-how," Al said.

"Yeah. Well, guess I'll see about that job down at the gas station," Ned replied.

Stamps In The News

The Taiwan sugar industry, which plays a vital role in Free China's export trade, will be the subject of a new stamp issued by the Republic of China from its exiled position on the island. The stamps will come in two denominations—$1 and $4 — and will also celebrate the 13th Congress of the International Society of Sugar Cane Technologits, reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. The design features three women workers harvesting sugar cane.

A second new stamp will mark the third anniversary of the death of Vice President Chen Cheng.

Both stamps will be available at your local stamp dealer.

FOREST FIRE DAMAGE. Destruction of West Virginia forests by fire continues to be a serious problem.

During the week ending March 21, 174 fires consumed over 2,000 acres of land. The current fire season started Jan. 1 and since, 9,574 acres have been lost to woods fires. Counties in the eastern part of the state have the lowest fire record.

NEW BUSINESS. Interest in the outdoors is growing by leaps and bounds. Proof of this in the Tri-State district is the opening of two new businesses designed to supply the needs of outdoor fans.

In East Liverpool, Matheny Marine on Lisbon St. Ext. has an extensive line of boats, motors, marine supplies and fishing equipment. It is operated by Joe Matheny, whose interest in the outdoors led him into the operation.

In nearby Beaver County, Outdoors Unlimited is holding its grand opening, boasting the largest indoor showroom for camping and outdoor supplies in the Tri-State area.

It is located on Route 18 — Big Beaver Blvd. — about four miles north of Beaver Falls.

George Greer and Ed Ackerman, operators, are avid campers and members of the National Campers and Hikers Association. They said the store hours will be 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily. They are displaying sporting goods, fishing accessories, travel accessories, and camping and trailer accessories.

COHO LAWS. Jesse Weaver, District III wildlife supervisor, says Ohio anglers should familiarize themselves with the regulation concerning Ohio's new sport fish, coho salmon.

The fish will be introduced shortly into some of the streams bordering Lake Erie. The regulations pertaining to this fish are as follows:

"It shall be unlawful for any person to take or possess a coho salmon less than 12 inches from Lake Erie or its tributaries, to possess or take more than three coho salmon, also it shall be unlawful for any person to sell or offer for sale coho salmon or any part thereof taken from the waters in this state."

Weaver added that coho salmon can be taken only by hook and line.

ON THEIR WAY. Some 25,000 Coho salmon fingerlings were released into the East Branch of the Chagrin River Wednesday, marking the start of their down-river migration to Lake Erie. Ohio Division of Wildlife officials are shown opening the pond, near Kirkland, where the fingerlings were placed to establish an imprint on their homing instincts. A few males will return this fall, but the first true spawning run should occur late in the fall of 1969 when the Cohoes will turn a deep red color and return to the point where they were released. They will have grown to 15 to 20 pounds by then.

The Younger Set

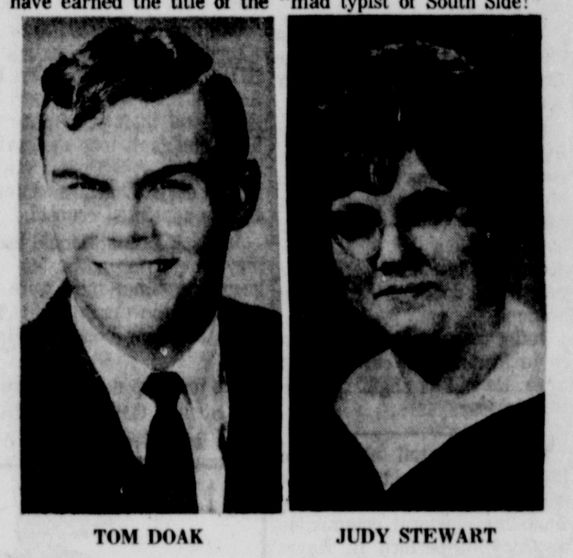

Four students from South Side have earned a place in the "Who's Who Among American High School Students" and top billing in this column. Chosen because of an athletic or academic bent or leadership qualities, the four deserve a tip of the hat from their comrades.

FRANCIS NASH — Number one student in his class, he has held office in Student Council, the Varsity Club and his class, served as co-captain of the basketball team, and earned letters in basketball and baseball. An NHS member, he plans to enter either Bucknell or Pitt in the fall, majoring in engineering. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Nash of Georgetown . . . RONALD PEDEN—He was a forward for the school's varsity basketball team, and was voted the most valuable football and basketball player in Beaver County and in the WPIAL. A four-year letterman in baseball, he also serves as vice president of his home room. Ron has also maintained honor roll standing throughout the 67-68 year! Though the place is not definite, Ron's got his heart set on a major in Physical Education. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Peden of Aliquippa RD 1 . . . JUDY STEWART — Editor-in-chief of the '68 yearbook and junior editor of last year's edition, Judy might well have earned the title of the "mad typist of South Side!"

TOM DOAK JUDY STEWART

She also serves as a member of the staff of the school newspaper (The Ram's Horn), concentrating on feature writing. Past vice president of her class, she is active in the French and Pep Clubs and Tri-Hi Y. She played a major in speech and drama at Penn State in the fall. She poetry and short stories and oil painting. She expects to major in speech and daram at Penn State in the fall. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Stewart of Georgetown RD 1 . . . LAST BUT NOT LEAST, THOMAS DOAK — class president in his junior and senior years, Tom also is vice-president of the Varsity club and a member of the Student Council. He is a four-year letterman in baseball and has received letters in basketball and football (He played guard and quarterback, respectively.) A son of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. Wayne Doak Sr., Tom resides with Mr. and Mrs. Francis Doak Jr. of Hookstown. He plans to major in history, though hasn't quite decided on the school . . . MEANWHILE THE PLEBIANS — Everyone in the senior class seems to be trying to earn an award for good behavior. The class was having difficulties trying to find chaperones or sponsors for the senior trip (hopefully planned for Washington, D. C.) 'cause no one wants to be responsible . . . Anyway, they're all on good behavior until they get what they want . . . "DOUBLE, DOUBLE, TOIL AND TROUBLE"—Apparently the three witches of Macbeth have stepped from the pages of Shakespeare for a closer look at a swinging high school. They're causing havoc throughout the cafeteria by creating bubbles in the flooring from HEAT, whistling through the radiators (try eating lunch to "Mack, the Knife" sometime . . . ech!) It's easy to blow your cool at lunch cause you almost take a sauna bath daily! Really now, what's a person to do?

SHOW TIME! — The East Liverpool seniors in the play cast made their debut last night in a wild production of "Arsenic and Old Lace." It was a great job — one you shouldn't miss . . . and you won't if you get dressed and hurry down to Westgate auditorium tonight at 7:45 for the final performance! . . . DOES FATHER KNOW BEST? — The Nike Club will find out at a Father-Daughter banquet Monday night in the Traveler's Hotel. Their method will be similar to that used on the television show, "Newlywed Game." It will be interesting to know just how much

"Daddy" has learned in all these years . . . "LOVERS LEAP" — The Student Council — a resourceful bunch — has come up with a takeoff from leap frog for the leap year dance—"Lovers Leap." Since this joyous occasion (depending on how successful the gals are . . .) can only occur every four years, the dance April 20 is really something special. Some lucky guy will be crowned (with a top hat) and reign as "Leap Year King". This could be the start of something big . . . DON'T MISS — The annual student-faculty game will be held Wednesday. Battling it out will be the Boys Intramural champions, "Stepien's Sluggers," and the "Faulty" faculty. One of the swingin'est assemblies all year, this affair has some really "special" cheerleaders!

HAVE A BALL Friday night was really for Wellsville Band members and guests during an annual Military Ball with the great "American Breed!" . . . FAMOUS FACULTY — The famous faculty of Wellsville defeated the students 19 to 15 in a game last Friday. The cheerleaders were beautiful in wigs, boots, stockings and a few other items to "round" them out. They were Tom Wolski, Tom Hanlon, Steve Betz, Terry Ewing and Clarence Wymer.

SPRING STYLES — With spring coming Lincoln High gals at Midland seem to favor shirt dresses . . . COLLEGE BOUND? - College boards scores are in and some students look "down and out . . ." LUNCHEON CRUNCH'IN, SPANIK? — Guys and gals here have an opportunity to see Gary Spanik in the driver's training car every Tuesday at lunch time. He seems to be having a problem stopping the car without a "jerk."

STUDENTS-FACULTY — The senior boys and the faculty at Western Beaver High clashed recently in a wild basketball game. The students won. The gals played the women faculty members later . . . LONGO AND KELKER SPOKE — A chemistry class recently was studying steel. Handy enough, Rocco Longo of the Blast Furnace Dept. and Robert Kelker of the Open Hearth of the Midland Division of the Crucible Steel Co. provided local insight into the steel industry in this area . . . THOUGHT PROCESSES — An unusual English assignment — first listening to recorded music then writing about the reactions — was a grand experience for some of Western's students.

You And The Law

"I think I'll try a hand at selling stocks and bonds," Ned said to his friend Al.

"Well, good luck. There are a lot of things to learn before you do anything like that," Al replied.

So what's the problem in selling stocks? When I was looking through the window of the stock broker's office yesterday, it looked pretty simple to me. I'm pretty good at arithmetic and I keep an eye on the stock listings," Ned said.

"And you must be keeping your head in a bucket, too," Al retorted. "You have to be licensed to sell stocks. There are a lot of rules and regulations in the area of selling securities such as stocks and bonds," Al commented.

"WHY ALL the fuss about selling stocks and bonds?" Ned asked.

"Securities may represent a sizable investment for a person. Unless the buyer knows what he's doing, he might lose a lot of money. On the other hand, an unscrupulous broker could make a real bundle and leave the buyer holding worthless paper," Al answered.

Most persons are familiar with the fact that there is such a thing as the "stock market," but often have little knowledge about its workings.

To protect the buyer, as well as the honest stock broker and the companies involved, securities are strictly regulated by the Ohio Division of Securities or the federal Securities and Exchange Commission, or both, depending on how the securities are sold.

Basically, a security is any certificate or other legal instrument which represents title to or an interest in the capital, assets, profits or credit of any person, corporation or partnership.

UNDER THE regulations in Ohio, an unlicensed dealer may be subject to a fine of $5,000 or imprisonment from one to five years. The same penalty also applies to a person knowingly selling an unregistered security which is required to be registered, or selling the securities of an insolvent issuer with the knowledge of the insolvency.

A broker who, without the right to do so, pledges, sells, or disposes of securities belonging to a customer, and the customer suffers a loss is subject to a fine of $10,000 and from one to 10 years in prison.

"So you see Ned, selling securities isn't a simple thing. It takes some real know-how," Al said.

"Yeah. Well, guess I'll see about that job down at the gas station," Ned replied.

Stamps In The News

The Taiwan sugar industry, which plays a vital role in Free China's export trade, will be the subject of a new stamp issued by the Republic of China from its exiled position on the island. The stamps will come in two denominations—$1 and $4 — and will also celebrate the 13th Congress of the International Society of Sugar Cane Technologits, reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. The design features three women workers harvesting sugar cane.

A second new stamp will mark the third anniversary of the death of Vice President Chen Cheng.

Both stamps will be available at your local stamp dealer.

Sentence Set In Death Case

NEW CUMBERLAND — Kenneth J. Butler, 48, of Sistersville was given an indefinite term of 5 to 18 years in the state penitentiary at Moundsville when he appeared in Hancock County Circuit Court for sentencing Friday.

Judge James J. McClure pronounced the sentence on Butler following his conviction Wednesday on a charge of second-degree murder.

Butler was convicted by a jury of four women and eight men in the shooting death of Linda Kay Peck, 21, of Weirton last July 23.

The victim, mother of two children, had been shot five times while on the porch of her residence on Cove Rd.

Butler was convicted following a three - day trial in Hancock County court that opened Monday. He went on trial for first- degree murder following his indictment by a Hancock grand jury in September of last year in the death of the Weirton woman.

Butler is expected to be taken to Moundsville early next week. He will be eligible for parole in four years.

The presidential election of 1876 was not decided until 48 hours before the inauguration when the electoral commission awarded Rutherford B. Hayes the presidency by a margin of one electoral vote over Samuel J. Tilden.

ROYAL COUPLE. Miss Kathy Reed and Bill Croskey proudly wear crowns received when they were named queen and king of the Military Ball Friday night at Beacom Memorial Gymnasium in Wellsville. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reed of 437 Buckeye Ave. and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Croskey of 327 Ridge Ave. Presenting the crowns is last year's king, Tom Meadows, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edison Meadows of 421 15th St. About 100 attended the dance sponsored by the high school band.

2 Enter Pleas Of Not Guilty

LISBON — The Columbiana County grand jury to be selected Tuesday will consider double charges against two Wellsville area men.

William E. Wright, 31, and Kenneth L. Hoschar, 32, both of RD 1, pleaded not guilty Friday in Southwest Court to charges of theft of a motor vehicle and malicious destruction of property. They waived preliminary hearings through court - appointed counsel.

Judge J. L. MacDonald bound the defendants over to the grand jury and they were returned to the County Jail. The judge set their bonds at $1,000 each.

The men are accused of stealing a 1965 GMC dump truck from Ray Moore's auger coal-mining operation south of Lisbon last week and cutting the cab and body from it in a woods northwest of Wellsville.

Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan received a tip on the location of the stripped truck and had deputies watch it. They arrested Wright as he drove the chassis from the woods toward Route 39. They apprehended Hoschar waiting in Wright's car at the highway.

Murder-Suicide Ruled

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP) — Coroner Francis Lenhart ruled murdered-suicide Friday in the shooting deaths last weekend of Mrs. Fred Weisgerber and her daughter Ann.

The coroner said Mrs. Weisgerber apparently shot her daughter with a .22 caliber pistol, critically wounded her sons, Mike, 17, and Jack, 13, before taking her own life. The boys remain hospitalized.

Youth Cited After Mishap

A 16-year-old city motorist was arrested Friday in one of three mishaps reported to police who said there were no injuries.

Dennis M. Wyand of 312 W. Drury Ln. was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way after an accident at the intersection of W. 8th St. and Shadyside Ave.

Wyand pulled from Shadyside and struck a westbound auto driven by Kenneth H. Mick, 56, of 1457 Mick Rd., Wellsville, causing damage to the right rear side of the 1965 sedan, police said.

Mick said he applied his brakes and swerved, but was unable to halt in time to avoid the collision. Wyand was driving an auto owned by William R. Drane of Stagecoach Rd., East Liverpool RD 3. The mishap occurred about 9:54 p. m.

Two cars collided at E. 3rd St., about 25 feet west of Washington St., causing minor damage.

Harry Watkins, 39, of Grant St., Newell, driving a 1958 sedan owned by Pat London of 713 E. 4th St., told officers he pulled from the curb on E. 3rd and struck an auto driven by Jerry Lee Rettig of Bucyrus.

Shortly before 11:30 last night, a parked car was struck by an auto on Ravine St. in front of VFW Post 64.

Danny S. Galloway, 22, of 527 1st Ave. said he drove his 1960 sedan from the post's parking lot, was unable to straighten the wheels and the car hit a 1965 coupe owned by John Pecovich of 719 Riley Ave. Galloway's car recived damage to the left front fender, and the Pecovish auto in the left door and quarter - panel.

Until about 1900, only one nation — Great Britain — was urbanized. Now all the industrial nations have mainly urban populations, and the trend to city living shows no signs of declining.

Rights Bill Seen 8 Short In House Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The civil rights bill has gained key Republican support but supporters fear a backlash from mounting Negro violence may put the bill in new jeopardy.

The latest count shows the Senate-passed measure, with its strong open-housing provision, about eight votes short of House approval.

After a night of burning, looting and scattered killings in several cities following the killing of the Rev. Martin Luther King, backers were concerned some 50 uncommitted House members might vote against the measure Wednesday.

The count now shows about 210 firm House votes for the bill with 218 needed for passage if every member votes.

The King assassination also was cited by 20 House Republicans who split with GOP leadership and urged approval of the Senate bill.

Swift passage, they said in a joint statement, would be "the most constructive way by which (we) could pay our individual respects to the memory of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr."

The 20 members, led by Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., said, however, they had reached their decision before King's death.

Their action came after influential Rep. William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio, split with GOP leadership and called for prompt passage of the Senate bill.

William E. Wright, 31, and Kenneth L. Hoschar, 32, both of RD 1, pleaded not guilty Friday in Southwest Court to charges of theft of a motor vehicle and malicious destruction of property. They waived preliminary hearings through court - appointed counsel.

Judge J. L. MacDonald bound the defendants over to the grand jury and they were returned to the County Jail. The judge set their bonds at $1,000 each.

The men are accused of stealing a 1965 GMC dump truck from Ray Moore's auger coal-mining operation south of Lisbon last week and cutting the cab and body from it in a woods northwest of Wellsville.

Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan received a tip on the location of the stripped truck and had deputies watch it. They arrested Wright as he drove the chassis from the woods toward Route 39. They apprehended Hoschar waiting in Wright's car at the highway.

Murder-Suicide Ruled

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP) — Coroner Francis Lenhart ruled murdered-suicide Friday in the shooting deaths last weekend of Mrs. Fred Weisgerber and her daughter Ann.

Youth Cited After Mishap

A 16-year-old city motorist was arrested Friday in one of three mishaps reported to police who said there were no injuries.

Dennis M. Wyand of 312 W. Drury Ln. was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way after an accident at the intersection of W. 8th St. and Shadyside Ave.

Wyand pulled from Shadyside and struck a westbound auto driven by Kenneth H. Mick, 56, of 1487 Mick Rd., Wellsville, causing damage to the right rear side of the 1965 sedan, police said.

Mick said he applied his brakes and swerved, but was unable to halt in time to avoid the collision. Wyand was driving an auto owned by William R. Drane of Stagecoach Rd., East Liverpool RD 3. The mishap occurred about 9:54 p. m.

Two cars collided at E. 3rd St., about 25 feet west of Washington St., causing minor damage.

Harry Watkins, 39, of Grant St., Newell, driving a 1958 sedan owned by Pat London of 713 E. 4th St., told odficers he pulled from the curb on E. 3rd and struck an auto driven by Jerry Lee Rettig of Bucyrus.

Shortly before 11:30 last night, a parked car was struck by an auto on Ravine St. in front of VFW Post 66.

Danny S. Galloway, 22, of 527 1st Ave. said he drove his 1960 sedan from the post's parking lot, was unable to straighten the wheels and the car hit a 1965 coupe owned by John Pecovich of 719 Riley Ave. Galloway's car recived damage to the left front fender, and the Pecovish auto in the left door and quarter - panel.

Until about 1900, only one nation — Great Britain — was urbanized. Now all the industrial nations have mainly urban populations, and the trend to city living shows no signs of declining.

Rights Bill Seen 8 Short In House Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The civil rights bill has gained key Republican support but supporters fear a backlash from mounting Negro violence may put the bill in new jeopardy.

The latest count shows the Senate-passed measure, with its strong open-housing provision, about eight votes short of House approval.

After a night of burning, looting and scattered killings in several cities following the killing of the Rev. Martin Luther King, backers were concerned some 50 uncommitted House members might vote against the measure Wednesday.

The count now shows about 210 firm House votes for the bill with 218 needed for passage if every member votes.

The King assassination also was cited by 20 House Republicans who split with GOP leadership and urged approval of the Senate bill.

Swift passage, they said in a joint statement, would be "the most constructive way by which (we) could pay our individual respects to the memory of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr."

The 20 members, led by Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., said, however, they had reached their decision before King's death.

Their action came after influential Rep. William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio, split with GOP leadership and called for prompt passage of the Senate bill.

'Hobo King,' 84, Dies In Hospital

CINCINNATI (AP)—Jefferson "Jeff" Davis, the Hobo King who refused to be called a bum, is dead.

"A hobo," he once said, "is an itinerant worker. He'll work. A bum won't work.

Wanderings of the 84-year-old carried him through many countries. Activities termed avocations by most became his major work.

Death came Friday at General Hospital where he had been a patient since March 17.

Styling himself "emporer of the knights of the road," Davis founded the Hoboes of America organization. Just when, nobody seems to know, but there was a fanciful title for anyone who proved himself to Davis as a wanderer's wanderer.

His wife, Clara, died in 1956. The couple had celebrated their golden wedding anniversary the year before.

Surviving is a daughter, Mrs. Cora Hill of Cincinnati.

'Hobo King,' 84, Dies In Hospital

CINCINNATI (AP)—Jefferson "Jeff" Davis, the Hobo King who refused to be called a bum, is dead.

"A hobo," he once said, "is an itinerant worker. He'll work. A bum won't work.

Wanderings of the 84-year-old carried him through many countries. Activities termed avocations by most became his major work.

Death came Friday at General Hospital where he had been a patient since March 17.

Styling himself "emperor of the knights of the road," Davis founded the Hoboes of America organization. Just when, nobody seems to know, but there was a fanciful title for anyone who proved himself to Davis as a wanderer's wanderer.

His wife, Clara, died in 1956. The couple had celebrated their golden wedding anniversary the year before.

Surviving is a daughter, Mrs. Cora Hill of Cincinnati.

Pirate-Astro Game Will Serve As Season's Opener

Traditional Openings Postponed

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Postponement of traditional opening games at Washington and Cincinnati has left the Pittsburgh-Houston clash Monday night in the Astrodome as baseball's 1968 season sendoff.

The Presidential opener in the nation's capitol, matching the Senators against Minnesota's potent Twins, has been set back from Monday to Tuesday as a result of the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King.

Cincinnati, which traditionally opens the National League season at home, reset its Monday game against the Chicago Cubs for Wednesday in compliance with Mayor Eugene Ruehlmann's call for a Day of Commitment Monday in memory of the slain civil rights champion.

At Houston, the Pirates will pitch veteran Jim Bunning, acquired from Philadelphia in one of the winter's biggest trades, against young Larry Dierker of the Astros. The game marks the managerial debut of Pittsburgh's Larry Shepard.

Five more first-year pilots—Atlanta's Luman Harris, the New York Mets' Gil Hodges, Washington's Jim Lemon, Cleveland's Alvin Dark and Oakland's Bob Kennedy—bow in the following day and night as all the other clubs, except the Reds and Cubs, swing into action.

St. Louis' world champions entertain Atlanta Tuesday night with World Series hero Bob Gibson set to pitch for the Cardinals against Braves' right-hander Pat Jarvis.

Philadelphia's Chris Short and Los Angeles' Claude Osteen hook up in a left-handers' duel at Dodger Stadium and the Pirates meet the Astros for the second time at Houston in other NL nightcap games.

The Mets send Tom Seaver, NL Rookie-of-the Year in 1967, against Giants' ace Juan Marichal in an afternoon opener at San Francisco.

The Boston Red Sox, stunned by reports that slugger Tony Conigliaro's career is in jeopardy because of deteriorating vision, begin defense of their American League crown at Detroit, with southpaw Dick Ellsworth opposing Earl Wilson, the Tigers' 22-game winner.

Ellsworth, picked up in a winter trade with Philadelphia, gets the opening day assignment in the absence of Cy Young Award winner Jim Lonborg, still recuperating from knee surgery following a skiing mishap.

President Lyndon B. Johnson is not expected to attend the delayed Washington opener, which will pit the Senators' Camilo Pascual against Minnesota's Dean Chance. Vice President Hubert Humphrey, an avid Twins' fan, could get the call to make the traditional first ball toss.

At Chicago, the White Sox, bolstered offensively by winter trades, pitch southpaw Gary Peters against Cleveland and right-hander Sonny Siebert. The Athletics, who have shifted from Kansas City to Oakland, open in Baltimore, with Catfish Hunter opposing the Orioles' Tom Phoebus on the mound.

California will start left-hander George Brunet in its road debut against the New York Yankees and Mel Stottlemyre. A threatened strike by Yankee Stadium groundskeepers and cleaning employes apparently has been averted with a new contract agreement, but the union membership still must ratify the pact.

Cincinnati and the Cubs complete the cycle of season openers Wednesday with the Reds' Milt Pappas pitching against either Rich Nye or Joe Niekro of Leo Durocher's young Chicago staff.

Ironmen Quit Continental Grid League

WHEELING (AP) — The Wheeling Ironmen voted Thursday to give up their franchise in the Continental Football League.

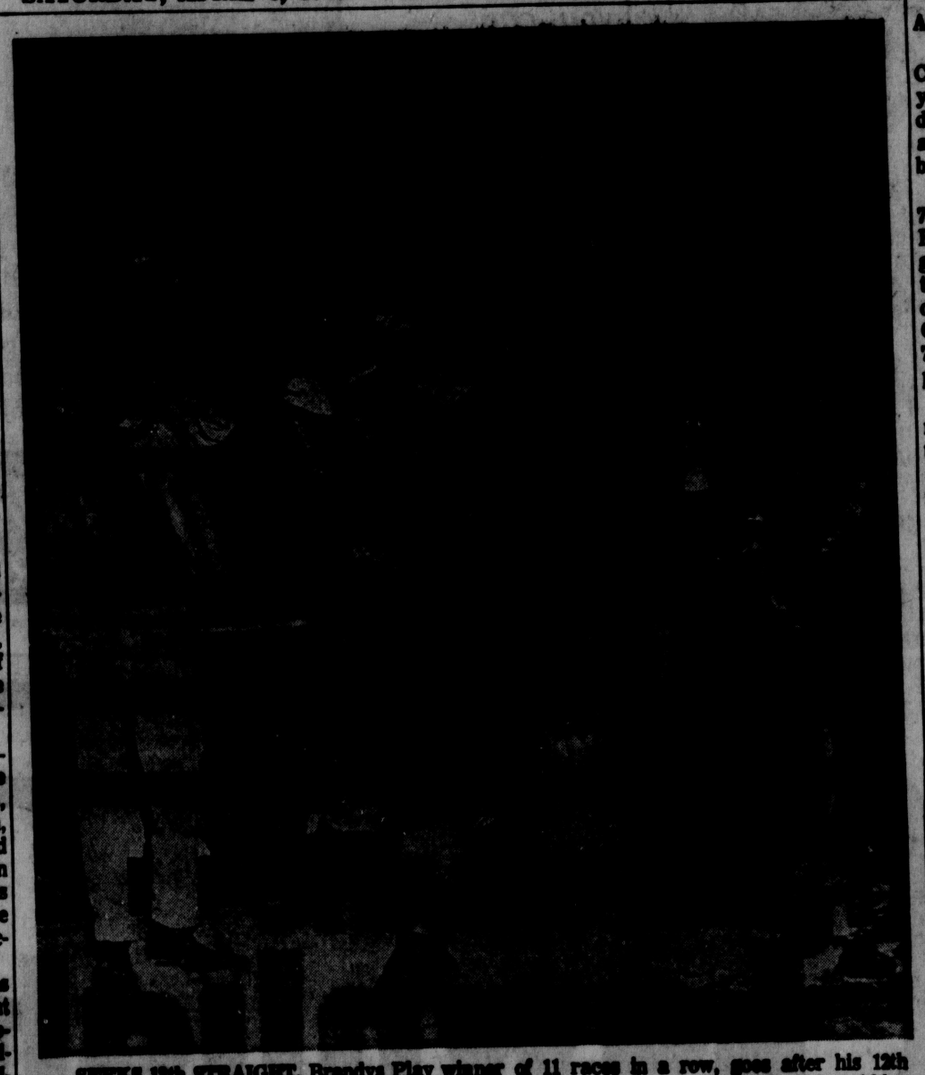

The action was taken at a meeting of the club's Board of Directors.

A spokesman for the board said a drive to get $60,000 to finance the team next season had fallen far short of the goal.

Wheeling entered minor league professional football in 1967 when the city fielded a team in the now defunct United Football League.

The club lost money while competing in the UFL and also as a member of the CFL, a spokesman said.

Brandys Play Goes For 12th

North View Farm's Brandys Play, winner of 11 races in a row, will attempt to make it an even dozen in the East Liverpool purse at Waterford Park tonight.

In going after Number 12, Brandys Play, now called a "Cinderella Horse", will face the stiffest competition he has met since his winning skein started on July 26, 1967. This will be his second start of 1968. In his first outing this year, a week ago, Brandys Play won off by himself, 11 lengths ahead of the next finisher in a six-furlong race. The East Liverpool also is at six furlongs.

Parading to the post with the five-year-old "Cinderella" will be Shushan which is trained by the veteran Herb Jolley. Shushan was a 17-length winner on March 11 and repeated with a five-length triumph on March 23. Princess Parade, also a starter tonight won on March 2 by five lengths.

The six - furlong route appears to be the best for Brandys Play. Of his 11 triumphs, six have been at six furlongs, two at a mile, two at five and one half furlongs and one at five furlongs.

Cecil Rogers, trainer of the North View Farm star, is of the opinion a good horse wins at any distance. He smilingly tells you that Brandys Play is a good horse.

Eleven victories in a row is an outstanding achievement for a thoroughbred. Man O War, whose record is now a legend, won 20 of 21 starts. His longest winning streak was 14 in a row. His only defeat was by a horse named, of all things, Upset. Native Dancer, of more recent vintage, won 21 of 22 starts. His winning streak closed at 11. The only defeat for Native Dancer was in the 1953 Kentucky Derby when he bowed to Dark Star by a nose. Dark Star never raced again.

While Brandys Play is not in the same class with Man O War or Native Dancer, he is commanding much respect in his own back yard.

Brandys Play is now five years old. He has taken his races in stride and has mowed down the competition in a systematic manner despite the fact that each race brings him better and better horses to face.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Calig of Pittsburgh, who own North View Farm, claimed Brandys Play for $1,500.00 last August.

Some close observers of racing who have watched both Shushan and Brandys Play in action this year are the opinion that the long winning streak will come to a close Saturday.

Ten races are scheduled for the Saturday program with the first going to the post at 7:15.

Dominated Loop For Years

W. Virginia Pulls Out Of Southern Conference

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP)— West Virginia's Mountaineers have made a habit of winning Southern Conference championships since they entered the league in 1950. All of that will end this spring when West Virginia withdraws from the conference.

In a move long rumored, West Virginia announced its withdrawal yesterday. University President James G. Harlow listed travel distances as one factor and West Virginia's being the only large publicly supported school in the conference as the other.

The withdrawal becomes effective at the end of the current academic year.

The move got nods of approval from both football coach Jim (Bucky) Waters. Both said they had been working privately to have WVU withdraw.

"'I appreciate the decision made by the school administrators and think it will be beneficial not only to West Virginia University but also to the Southern Conference," Carlen said. He explained that he thought the move would give the conference better balance.

Waters terms the withdrawal "'a progressive step." He said "leaving the comfortable confines of the Southern Conference to become an at-large member that he believed the university's football program would profit financially by playing as an at-large school.

"'We're scheduling out of the conference in order to meet our budget," Calen said. "Last year we played William and Mary for the conference championship and there were 11,000 people there. I just think our interests lie in another area."

WVU athletic director Robert (Red) Brown said he had "a genuine personal feeling of regret at leaving the Southern Conference," and said he thought WVU had made "a significant contribution to the conference.

Conference Commissioner Lloyd Jordan said the West Virginia action "shocks us." As to the league's future, he said "'we can pick up the pieces and see what we can do."

West Virginia thus joins Pittsburgh, Boston College, Syracuse, and Penn State as major eastern college football powers without a conference affiliation. And WVU has had long associations with all of the other eastern independents. The Syracuse-WVU rival is perhaps the top game on the Mountaineer football schedule each year.

The Mountaineers won 37 Southern Conference championships, including eight football titles and eight regular season basketball crowns. And 185 Mountaineers were named to all-conference teams.

Some of West Virginia's brightest stars played while the Mountaineers were in the league, including NBA great Jerry West of the Los Angeles Lakers, Rod Thorn and Ron Hot Rod Hundley on the basketball side of the ledger.

In football, perhaps the best team the Mountaineers ever fielded — the 1953 squad — was unbeaten in the conference and went on to the Sugar Bowl. That squad boasted Freddy Wyant at quarterback, tackles Sam Huff and Bruce Bosley, center Bob Orders and fullback Joe Marconi.

West Virginia has already announced expansion of its scope in football in the 1970s by scheduling such intersectional opponents as Tulane, Miami, Fla., Stanford, Illinois and Southern Methodist. The 1968 schedule includes only four Southern Conference teams.

The link won't be totally severed.

"West Virginia will continue to play some conference members," Harlow said, "and thus looks forward to a friendly relationship with the conference in the future."

Celtics Get Head Start In Playoff

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's one thing the Boston Celtics want to accomplish this year more than anything. It's to dethrone the Philadelphia 76ers and regain the National Basketball Association championship.

They got the jump on the 76ers by beating them 127-118 Friday night in the opening game of the best-of-7 series in the Eastern Division final playoffs. It was a big win for the Celtics since they did it on the 76ers' home court in Philadelphia.

Los Angeles, playing at home, routed San Francisco 133-105 in the first game of their best-of-7 series in the Western Division final playoffs.

New Orleans, also playing at home, defeated Dallas 104-99 in the opener of their best-of-7 series in the Western Division final playoff in the American Basketball Association. No other games were scheduled.

John Havlicek, Sam Jones and Bailey Howell combined for 86 points as the determined Celtics downed the 76ers. Havlicek got 35 points, Jones 27 and Howell 24.

Their efforts offset the combined 64 points by Wilt Chamberlain and Chet Walker for the 76ers. Chamberlain scored 33 and Walker 31.

A 20-foot jumper by Howell put Boston ahead for good in the second quarter at 48-46. A tough defense helped the Celtics stay on top.

Gail Goodrich sparked a Los Angeles spurt late in the first half that turned back the Warriors. The former UCLA All-American came off the bench with San Francisco ahead 43-42 and six minutes left in the first half.

Goodrich hit five field goals and added two fouls for 12 points to put the Lakers ahead 63-51 at intermission. Los Angeles opened a 24-point lead in the third quarter and coasted thereafter.

Elgin Baylor and Jerry West paced the Lakers with 29 and 27 points, respectively, with Goodrich finishing with 17. Jeff Mullins was high for the Warriors with 29.

Doug Moe and Jimmy Jones each scored 28 points and paced New Orleans over Dallas. Sparkling defensive play by Jackie Moreland also helped the Bucs to defeat the Chapparrals.

Dallas, led by Johnny Beasley, erased a 10-point New Orleans lead to 82-81 at the end of the third period. Moreland then came up with several key defensive plays that put the Bucs back on top. Beasley led Dallas with 27 points.

Hosket Must Make Choice Of Career

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Bill Hosket, Ohio State University basketball star, faces the hard decision of whether to accept a graduate scholarship or go into pro basketball.

Hosket, a 6-foot, 8-inch forward now in Albuquerque, N. M., trying for the United States Olympic basketball team, was a first round draft choice of the New York Knickerbockers of the National Basketball Association. The selection was announced Wednesday.

It came about the same time Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, announced Hosket as winner of an NCAA scholarship.

"We are very pleased that Bill won," said his wife, Patricia, "but Bill is not sure that he will be able to accept it (scholarship) because of his plans to go into pro basketball."

A job with the Knickerbockers would interfer with graduate school.

Hosket had a 21.5 points per game scoring average the past season.

Red Sox To Open Defense In AL Without Conigliaro

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The defending champion Boston Red Sox are heading North with a shadow cast over their American League pennant chances by the clouded baseball future of Tony Conigliaro.

The young slugger's vision in his left eye is deteriorating as a result of being hit in the face by a pitch last Aug. 18, and Boston General manager Dick O'Connell asked Friday that he be placed on the emergency disabled list for a minimum of 60 days.

"This comes as such a blow because we all were so optimistic," Carl Yaztrezemski said as the Red Sox broke camp at Winter Haven, Fla. "We can only hope he will recover completely."

Manager Dick Williams said rookie Joe Lahoud would get a shot at filling Conigliaro's right field job.

In an abbreviated exhibition schedule Friday, Cincinnati defeated Oakland 7-6 in 10 innings, St. Louis edged Detroit 3-2 and Pittsburgh downed the New York Yankees in day games.

Minnesota nipped Houston 3-2, the New York Mets beat California 4-3 and Cleveland edged San Francisco 5-4 in night games.

The Chicago White Sox-Chicago Cubs and the Baltimore at Atlanta games were canceled because of wet grounds.

Cincinnati fell behind Oakland 5-0 and then won on Jim Gosger's two-out home run in the bottom of the 10th.

Blanked by John "Blue Moon" Odom for seven innings, Cincinnati touched Paul Lindblad for two-run homers by Vada Pinson and Mack Jones in the eighth and added two more runs in the ninth on a pair of singles and Pete Rose's double.

Oakland then tied it in the bottom of the ninth on a hit, error and Ramon Webster's single.

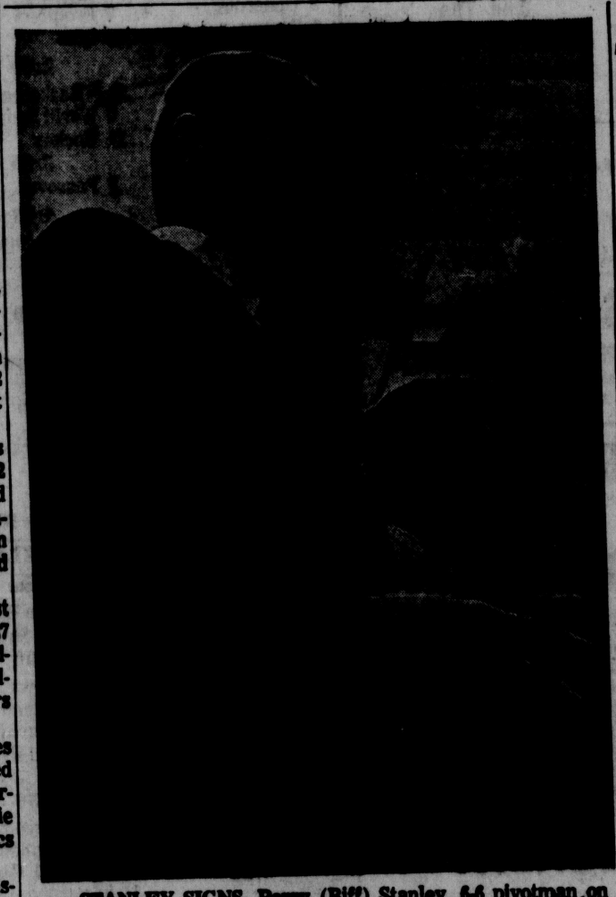

Bob Tolan's one-out single following Phil Gagliano's triple and an intentional walk gave St. Louis its victory. Detroit, which scored in the first, had tied it in the seventh. St. Louis got its first two runs on one hit off Earl Wilson in the second.

Pittsburgh scored four runs on six hits, including Matty Alou's two-run double, and added two more on homers by Willie Stargell in the second and Bill Mazeroski in the third. All the runs came off Fred Talbot. Bill Robinson scored the Yankees' first run and homered for the second.

Cesar Tovar's two-run homer in the ninth off Jim Ray, who had not allowed a run in 11⅓ innings of spring pitching, won it for Minnesota. Houston had taken a 2-1 lead in the sixth on RBI singles by Rusty Staub and Doug Rader.

The Mets' Tom Seaver, Rookie-of-the-Year in the National League last season, warmed up for his opening day stint by blanking the Angels on one hit over the first five innings. The loss snapped a four-game California winning string.

Cleveland battered Juan Marichal, Seaver's mound opponent in next Tuesday's Mets-Giants season opener, for five runs in the fifth inning. Tommy Harper's double was the big blow as the Indians batted around in the fifth.

Stanley Cup Playoffs On Tap Tonight

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The worm is turning in the National Hockey League's West Division and Los Angeles and St. Louis hope to keep the little fellow on the move.

Both clubs swing back into action tonight as Stanley Cup playoff action resumes with Minnesota at Los Angeles and St. Louis at Philadelphia. Boston is at Montreal for the second game of their series in the only East Division action tonight.

Los Angeles managed just two victories in 10 regular season games against playoff foe Minnesota. But the Kings whipped the North Stars 2-1 Thursday in the opening game of the playoffs.

And St. Louis had beaten Philadelphia just once all year before blanking the Flyers 1-0 in Thursday's opening Cup game.

Two veteran goalie who've been through the Stanley Cup mill plenty of times before, were the key men for the Kings and Blues.

Terry Sawchuk, LA's 38-year-old netminder, kicked out 31 shots as the Kings nip Minnesota.

"He made the saves that kept us in the game," said Coach Red Kelly.

Glenn Hall, who's 36, had an easier time for St. Louis, facing just 14 Philadelphia shots as the Flyer offense continued to sputter.

Hall said it wasn't as easy as it might seem to be.

"It was easy physically," he said, "but not mentally. After all, all I had to do was miss one and it was all over."

That's how it was for Gerry Cheevers in Montreal. The Boston goalie staged a strong duel with Montreal's Gump Worsley until late in the third period when Claude Provost deflected a Ted Harris slap shot past him for the winning goal.

New York and Chicago were scheduled to resume their playoff series Sunday but there was a possibility that the game would be postponed because of the national day of mourning for Dr. Martin Luther King, the slain civil rights leader.

New York won the opener 3-1 behind a strong checking game and the tight goaltending of Ed Giacomin.

Rain Halts Greensboro Play With 2 Deadlocked

By KEN ALYTA
Associated Press Sports Writer

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Julius Boros remained in a tie with Billy Casper for the lead in the $137,500 Greater Greensboro Open golf tournament as second round play began anew today, thanks to Boros' old pal, the weather man.

Each had a six-under-par 65, fashioned in Thursday's opening round to lead Al Geiberger by a stroke.

But Boros needed help from the weather Friday. The second round was called because of rain after being half completed nullifying all scores to that point and reshuffling the schedule.

The second round was reset for today with a 36-hole windup arranged for Sunday to make up the lost time.

Casper was one of 67 players who slogged around the soggy 7,034 yards of the Sedgefield Country Club before the end came Friday. He fashioned a fine 68, three under par, for a 133 total and the early lead.

Boros, meanwhile, started with a two-stroke penalty when he was four minutes late for his 12:48 p.m. date at the first tee.

After a 40-minute wait the round was cancelled and all the scores went down the drain. Nothing counted and it's a new day today. Sixty-nine men were on the course when play stopped. Several greens and fairways were in bad shape.

A chief casualty of Friday's rain was Jack McGowan, whose 66, best score of the day, was rained out. It gave him a 135 total and second place behind Casper before the cancellation.

Arnold Palmer also played well in the rain, his 67 giving him 136 for third place.

As play in the second round began today, Boros and Casper, at 65, were one shot in front of Al Geiberger. Two shots off the pace at 67 were Joe Campbell, Terry Dil and Bob Smith.

At 68 were Don January, George Archer, Kel Nagle, Dave Hill and Cobie LeGrange.

Fourteen men were at 69. Among them were Palmer, Gary Player and leading money winner Tom Weiskopf, who had his second-round 69 washed out.

Brandys Play Goes For 12th

North View Farm's Brandys Play, winner of 11 races in a row, will attempt to make it an even dozen in the East Liverpool purse at Waterford Park tonight.

In going after Number 12, Brandys Play, now called a "Cinderella Horse", will face the stiffest competition he has met since his winning skein started on July 26, 1967. This will be his second start of 1968. In his first outing this year, a week ago, Brandys Play won off by himself, 11 lengths ahead of the next finisher in a six-furlong race. The East Liverpool also is at six furlongs.

Parading to the post with the five-year-old "Cinderella" will be Shushan which is trained by the veteran Herb Jolley. Shushan was a 17-length winner on March 11 and repeated with a five-length triumph on March 23. Princess Parade, also a starter tonight won on March 2 by five lengths.

The six - furlong route appears to be the best for Brandys Play. Of his 11 triumphs, six have been at six furlongs, two at a mile, two at five and one half furlongs and one at five furlongs.

Eleven victories in a row is an outstanding achievement for a thoroughbred. Man O War, whose record is now a legend, won 20 of 21 starts. His longest winning streak was 14 in a row. His only defeat was by a horse named, of all things, Upset. Native Dancer, of more recent vintage, won 21 of 22 starts. His winning streak closed at 11. The only defeat for Native Dancer was in the 1953 Kentucky Derby when he bowed to Dark Star by a nose. Dark Star never raced again.

While Brandys Play is not in the same class with Man O War or Native Dancer, he is commanding much respect in his own back yard.

Brandys Play is now five years old. He has taken his races in stride and has mowed down the competition in a systematic manner despite the fact that each race brings him better and better horses to face.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Calig of Pittsburgh, who own North View Farm, claimed Brandys Play for $1,500.00 last August.

Some close observers of racing who have watched both Shushan and Brandys Play in action this year are the opinion that the long winning streak will come to a close Saturday.

Ten races are scheduled for the Saturday program with the first going to the post at 7:15.

Dominated Loop For Years

W. Virginia Pulls Out Of Southern Conference

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP)— West Virginia's Mountaineers have made a habit of winning Southern Conference championships since they entered the league in 1950. All of that will end this spring when West Virginia withdraws from the conference.

In a move long rumored, West Virginia announced its withdrawal yesterday. University President James G. Harlow listed travel distances as one factor and West Virginia's being the only large publicly supported school in the conference as the other.

The withdrawal becomes effective at the end of the current academic year.

The move got nods of approval from both football coach Jim (Bucky) Waters. Both said they had been working privately to have WVU withdraw.

"'I appreciate the decision made by the school administrators and think it will be beneficial not only to West Virginia University but also to the Southern Conference," Carlen said. He explained that he thought the move would give the conference better balance.

Waters terms the withdrawal "'a progressive step." He said "leaving the comfortable confines of the Southern Conference to become an at-large member that he believed the university's football program would profit financially by playing as an at-large school.

"'We're scheduling out of the conference in order to meet our budget," Calen said. "Last year we played William and Mary for the conference championship and there were 11,000 people there. I just think our interests lie in another area."

WVU athletic director Robert (Red) Brown said he had "a genuine personal feeling of regret at leaving the Southern Conference," and said he thought WVU had made "a significant contribution to the conference.

Conference Commissioner Lloyd Jordan said the West Virginia action "shocks us." As to the league's future, he said "'we can pick up the pieces and see what we can do."

West Virginia thus joins Pittsburgh, Boston College, Syracuse, and Penn State as major eastern college football powers without a conference affiliation. And WVU has had long associations with all of the other eastern independents. The Syracuse-WVU rival is perhaps the top game on the Mountaineer football schedule each year.

The Mountaineers won 37 Southern Conference championships, including eight football titles and eight regular season basketball crowns. And 185 Mountaineers were named to all-conference teams.

Some of West Virginia's brightest stars played while the Mountaineers were in the league, including NBA great Jerry West of the Los Angeles Lakers, Rod Thorn and Ron Hot Rod Hundley on the basketball side of the ledger.

In football, perhaps the best team the Mountaineers ever fielded — the 1953 squad — was unbeaten in the conference and went on to the Sugar Bowl. That squad boasted Freddy Wyant at quarterback, tackles Sam Huff and Bruce Bosley, center Bob Orders and fullback Joe Marconi.

West Virginia has already announced expansion of its scope in football in the 1970s by scheduling such intersectional opponents as Tulane, Miami, Fla., Stanford, Illinois and Southern Methodist. The 1968 schedule includes only four Southern Conference teams.

The link won't be totally severed.

"West Virginia will continue to play some conference members," Harlow said, "and thus looks forward to a friendly relationship with the conference in the future."

Celtics Get Head Start In Playoff

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's one thing the Boston Celtics want to accomplish this year more than anything. It's to dethrone the Philadelphia 76ers and regain the National Basketball Association championship.

They got the jump on the 76ers by beating them 127-118 Friday night in the opening game of the best-of-7 series in the Eastern Division final playoffs. It was a big win for the Celtics since they did it on the 76ers' home court in Philadelphia.

Los Angeles, playing at home, routed San Francisco 133-105 in the first game of their best-of-7 series in the Western Division final playoffs.

New Orleans, also playing at home, defeated Dallas 104-99 in the opener of their best-of-7 series in the Western Division final playoff in the American Basketball Association. No other games were scheduled.

John Havlicek, Sam Jones and Bailey Howell combined for 86 points as the determined Celtics downed the 76ers. Havlicek got 35 points, Jones 27 and Howell 24.

Their efforts offset the combined 64 points by Wilt Chamberlain and Chet Walker for the 76ers. Chamberlain scored 33 and Walker 31.

A 20-foot jumper by Howell put Boston ahead for good in the second quarter at 48-46. A tough defense helped the Celtics stay on top.

Gail Goodrich sparked a Los Angeles spurt late in the first half that turned back the Warriors. The former UCLA All-American came off the bench with San Francisco ahead 43-42 and six minutes left in the first half.

Goodrich hit five field goals and added two fouls for 12 points to put the Lakers ahead 63-51 at intermission. Los Angeles opened a 24-point lead in the third quarter and coasted thereafter.

Elgin Baylor and Jerry West paced the Lakers with 29 and 27 points, respectively, with Goodrich finishing with 17. Jeff Mullins was high for the Warriors with 29.

Doug Moe and Jimmy Jones each scored 28 points and paced New Orleans over Dallas. Sparkling defensive play by Jackie Moreland also helped the Bucs to defeat the Chapparrals.

Dallas, led by Johnny Beasley, erased a 10-point New Orleans lead to 82-81 at the end of the third period. Moreland then came up with several key defensive plays that put the Bucs back on top. Beasley led Dallas with 27 points.

Hosket Must Make Choice Of Career

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Bill Hosket, Ohio State University basketball star, faces the hard decision of whether to accept a graduate scholarship or go into pro basketball.

Hosket, a 6-foot, 8-inch forward now in Albuquerque, N. M., trying for the United States Olympic basketball team, was a first round draft choice of the New York Knickerbockers of the National Basketball Association. The selection was announced Wednesday.

It came about the same time Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, announced Hosket as winner of an NCAA scholarship.

"We are very pleased that Bill won," said his wife, Patricia, "but Bill is not sure that he will be able to accept it (scholarship) because of his plans to go into pro basketball."

A job with the Knickerbockers would interfer with graduate school.

Hosket had a 21.5 points per game scoring average the past season.

Red Sox To Open Defense In AL Without Conigliaro

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The defending champion Boston Red Sox are heading North with a shadow cast over their American League pennant chances by the clouded baseball future of Tony Conigliaro.

The young slugger's vision in his left eye is deteriorating as a result of being hit in the face by a pitch last Aug. 18, and Boston General manager Dick O'Connell asked Friday that he be placed on the emergency disabled list for a minimum of 60 days.

"This comes as such a blow because we all were so optimistic," Carl Yaztrezemski said as the Red Sox broke camp at Winter Haven, Fla. "We can only hope he will recover completely."

Manager Dick Williams said rookie Joe Lahoud would get a shot at filling Conigliaro's right field job.

In an abbreviated exhibition schedule Friday, Cincinnati defeated Oakland 7-6 in 10 innings, St. Louis edged Detroit 3-2 and Pittsburgh downed the New York Yankees in day games.

Minnesota nipped Houston 3-2, the New York Mets beat California 4-2 and Cleveland edged San Francisco 5-4 in night games.

The Chicago White Sox-Chicago Cubs and the Baltimore at Atlanta games were canceled because of wet grounds.

Cincinnati fell behind Oakland 5-0 and then won on Jim Gosger's two-out home run in the bottom of the 10th.

Blanked by John "Blue Moon" Odom for seven innings, Cincinnati touched Paul Lindblad for two-run homers by Vada Pinson and Mack Jones in the eighth and added two more runs in the ninth on a pair of singles and Pete Rose's double.

Oakland then tied it in the bottom of the ninth on a hit, error and Ramon Webster's single.

Bob Tolan's one-out single following Phil Gagliano's triple and an intentional walk gave St. Louis its victory. Detroit, which scored in the first, had tied it in the seventh. St. Louis got its first two runs on one hit off Earl Wilson in the second.

Pittsburgh scored four runs on six hits, including Matty Alou's two-run double, and added two more on homers by Willie Stargell in the second and Bill Mazeroski in the third. All the runs came off Fred Talbot. Bill Robinson scored the Yankees' first run and homered for the second.

Cesar Tovar's two-run homer in the ninth off Jim Ray, who had not allowed a run in 11½ innings of spring pitching, won it for Minnesota. Houston had taken a 2-1 lead in the sixth on RBI singles by Rusty Staub and Doug Rader.

The Mets' Tom Seaver, Rookie-of-the-Year in the National League last season, warmed up for his opening day stint by blanking the Angels on one hit over the first five innings. The loss snapped a four-game California winning string.

Cleveland battered Juan Marichal, Seaver's mound opponent in next Tuesday's Mets-Giants season opener, for five runs in the fifth inning. Tommy Harper's double was the big blow as the Indians batted around in the fifth.

Stanley Cup Playoffs On Tap Tonight

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The worm is turning in the National Hockey League's West Division and Los Angeles and St. Louis hope to keep the little fellow on the move.

Both clubs swing back into action tonight as Stanley Cup playoff action resumes with Minnesota at Los Angeles and St. Louis at Philadelphia. Boston is at Montreal for the second game of their series in the only East Division action tonight.

Los Angeles managed just two victories in 10 regular season games against playoff foe Minnesota. But the Kings whipped the North Stars 2-1 Thursday in the opening game of the playoffs.

And St. Louis had beaten Philadelphia just once all year before blanking the Flyers 1-0 in Thursday's opening Cup game.

Two veteran goalie who've been through the Stanley Cup mill plenty of times before, were the key men for the Kings and Blues.

Terry Sawchuk, LA's 38-year-old netminder, kicked out 31 shots as the Kings nip Minnesota.

"He made the saves that kept us in the game," said Coach Red Kelly.

Glenn Hall, who's 36, had an easier time for St. Louis, facing just 14 Philadelphia shots as the Flyer offense continued to sputter.

Hall said it wasn't as easy as it might seem to be.

"It was easy physically," he said, "but not mentally. After all, all I had to do was miss one and it was all over."

That's how it was for Gerry Cheevers in Montreal. The Boston goalie staged a strong duel with Montreal's Gump Worsley until late in the third period when Claude Provost deflected a Ted Harris slap shot past him for the winning goal.

New York and Chicago were scheduled to resume their playoff series Sunday but there was a possibility that the game would be postponed because of the national day of mourning for Dr. Martin Luther King, the slain civil rights leader.

New York won the opener 3-1 behind a strong checking game and the tight goaltending of Ed Giacomin.

Rain Halts Greensboro Play With 2 Deadlocked

By KEN ALYTA
Associated Press Sports Writer

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Julius Boros remained in a tie with Billy Casper for the lead in the $137,500 Greater Greensboro Open golf tournament as second round play began anew today, thanks to Boros' old pal, the weather man.

Each had a six-under-par 65, fashioned in Thursday's opening round to lead Al Geiberger by a stroke.

But Boros needed help from the weather Friday. The second round was called because of rain after being half completed nullifying all scores to that point and reshuffling the schedule.

The second round was reset for today with a 36-hole windup arranged for Sunday to make up the lost time.

Casper was one of 67 players who slogged around the soggy 7,034 yards of the Sedgefield Country Club before the end came Friday. He fashioned a fine 68, three under par, for a 133 total and the early lead.

Boros, meanwhile, started with a two-stroke penalty when he was four minutes late for his 12:48 p.m. date at the first tee.

After a 40-minute wait the round was cancelled and all the scores went down the drain. Nothing counted and it's a new day today. Sixty-nine men were on the course when play stopped. Several greens and fairways were in bad shape.

A chief casualty of Friday's rain was Jack McGowan, whose 66, best score of the day, was rained out. It gave him a 135 total and second place behind Casper before the cancellation.

Arnold Palmer also played well in the rain, his 67 giving him 136 for third place.

As play in the second round began today, Boros and Casper, at 65, were one shot in front of Al Geiberger. Two shots off the pace at 67 were Joe Campbell, Terry Dil and Bob Smith.

At 68 were Don January, George Archer, Kel Nagle, Dave Hill and Cobie LeGrange.

Fourteen men were at 69. Among them were Palmer, Gary Player and leading money winner Tom Weiskopf, who had his second-round 69 washed out.

King's Death, Racial Tension Halt Sports

By The Associated Press

Baseball's Presidential opener and a National Basketball Association playoff game are among the major sports events that have been rescheduled in the aftermath of the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King.

Grief and concern over the civil rights leader's death, coupled with racial unrest in some areas, resulted Friday in a handful of significant postponements involving both professional and amateur sports.

The American League baseball opener at Washington between the Senators and Minnesota Twins was set back from Monday to Tuesday. Cincinnati's National League home opener against the Chicago Cubs, also scheduled for Monday, was postponed until Wednesday.

The Houston Astros said they would go ahead with their Monday night homer opener against Pittsburgh in the Astrodome, but reacted to President Johnson's call for a national day of mourning for Dr. King Sunday by calling off a scheduled exhibition meeting with the Twins.

The Detroit Tigers-St. Louis Cardinals' exhibition game at St. Petersburg, Fla., Sunday also was canceled.

The NBA reset Sunday's Eastern Division playoff game at Boston between the Celtics and the Philadelphia 76ers for next Wednesday night. The Sunday contest, second in the best-of-7 Eastern finals, was to have been nationally televised (ABC-TV).

No decision was announced on the status of the second game of the Western Division final series between San Francisco and Los Angeles, scheduled for Sunday night on the Lakers' floor.

The National Hockey League was to decide today whether Sunday's playoff game at New York between the Rangers and Chicago Black Hawks, set for national television (CBS-TV), would be played. Two American Basketball Association playoff contests scheduled for Sunday also were up in the air. A decision was to be announced today.

The Reds-Cubs baseball opener was postponed after Mayor Eugene Ruehlmann called for a Day of Commitment on the part of Cincinnati citizens Monday in memory of the slain Negro leader.

DiMag Back In Dugout, To Serve As A's Coach

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Joe DiMaggio, the Yankee clipper, is back in the dugout—as a full-time coach with the Oakland Athletics.

Oakland owner Charles O. Finley announced DiMaggio's new duties Friday, while the A's were in Birmingham for an exhibition game with the Cincinnati Reds.

DiMaggio has accompanied the New York Yankees to Florida as a batting instructor during spring training for six years, but, except for that, had been out of baseball for 17 years until Finley made him an Oakland vice president earlier this year.

The former Yankee center fielder accompanied the A's to Florida for spring training this year and, infected with the eagerness of the young Athletics squad, agreed to go back into uniform.

"I have become attached to these kids," the 53-year-old Hall of Famer said at the news conference announcing his new job. "I have never been around a group so eager to learn."

DiMaggio repeated emphatically that he has no intention of going in managing and said his plans presently do not go past this season.

Examination Due For City Youth In Robbery Charge

David L. Roberts, 20, of Drain St., who has been in the County Jail at Lisbon since July 26 on a charge of armed robbery, will be taken to Lima State Hospital for a pre - sentence examination.

The September Grand Jury charged Roberts with two East Liverpool area robberies — July 24 at Adrian's Catering Service on St. Clair Ave. Ext. and July 26 at Berlie's Diner on Mulberry St.

NY Stadium Employes Call Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — A state mediator will try today to settle a threatened strike that could force postponement of the home openers of both the New York Yankees and Mets.

Vincent McDonnell, chairman of the State Mediation Board, called stadium officials and representatives of Local 54, AFL-CIO Building Service Employes Union to a mediation session Thursday after the union voted to strike if a wage agreement is not worked out.

The strike deadline was set for 8 a.m. Monday at Yankee Stadium where the American League club is to open its season the next day. The Shea Stadium deadline was set for Tuesday, but the Mets don't play at home until April 17.

The union is reported to be asking for substantial increases in wages that now range from $1.88 an hour for sweepers to $2.75 an hour for year-round grounds keepers and other maintenance workers.

King's Death, Racial Tension Halt Sports

By The Associated Press

Baseball's Presidential opener and a National Basketball Association playoff game are among the major sports events that have been rescheduled in the aftermath of the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King.

Grief and concern over the civil rights leader's death, coupled with racial unrest in some areas, resulted Friday in a handful of significant postponements involving both professional and amateur sports.

The American League baseball opener at Washington between the Senators and Minnesota Twins was set back from Monday to Tuesday. Cincinnati's National League home opener against the Chicago Cubs, also scheduled for Monday, was postponed until Wednesday.

The Houston Astros said they would go ahead with their Monday night homer opener against Pittsburgh in the Astrodome, but reacted to President Johnson's call for a national day of mourning for Dr. King Sunday by calling off a scheduled exhibition meeting with the Twins.

The Detroit Tigers-St. Louis Cardinals' exhibition game at St. Petersburg, Fla., Sunday also was canceled.

The NBA reset Sunday's Eastern Division playoff game at Boston between the Celtics and the Philadelphia 76ers for next Wednesday night. The Sunday contest, second in the best-of-7 Eastern finals, was to have been nationally televised (ABC-TV).

No decision was announced on the status of the second game of the Western Division final series between San Francisco and Los Angeles, scheduled for Sunday night on the Lakers' floor.

The National Hockey League was to decide today whether Sunday's playoff game at New York between the Rangers and Chicago Black Hawks, set for national television (CBS-TV), would be played. Two American Basketball Association playoff contests scheduled for Sunday also were up in the air. A decision was to be announced today.

The Reds-Cubs baseball opener was postponed after Mayor Eugene Ruehlmann called for a Day of Commitment on the part of Cincinnati citizens Monday in memory of the slain Negro leader.

DiMag Back In Dugout, To Serve As A's Coach

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Joe DiMaggio, the Yankee clipper, is back in the dugout—as a full-time coach with the Oakland Athletics.

Oakland owner Charles O. Finley announced DiMaggio's new duties Friday, while the A's were in Birmingham for an exhibition game with the Cincinnati Reds.

DiMaggio has accompanied the New York Yankees to Florida as a batting instructor during spring training for six years, but, except for that, had been out of baseball for 17 years until Finley made him an Oakland vice president earlier this year.

The former Yankee center fielder accompanied the A's to Florida for spring training this year and, infected with the eagerness of the young Athletics squad, agreed to go back into uniform.

"I have become attached to these kids," the 53-year-old Hall of Famer said at the news conference announcing his new job. "I have never been around a group so eager to learn."

DiMaggio repeated emphatically that he has no intention of going in managing and said his plans presently do not go past this season.

David L. Roberts, 20, of Drain St., who has been in the County Jail at Lisbon since July 26 on a charge of armed robbery, will be taken to Lima State Hospital for a pre - sentence examination.

The September Grand Jury charged Roberts with two East Liverpool area robberies — July 24 at Adrian's Catering Service on St. Clair Ave. Ext. and July 26 at Berlie's Diner on Mulberry St.

$1,000 Donated For Rogers Man

A campaign to raise funds to aid George Barnhouse of Rogers has exceeded the $1,000 goal.

Mrs. Elsie Bowers and Mrs. Alberta Crawford, co-chairmen, said today the money will be used to purchase an electric wheelchair and body lift for Barnhouse, paralyzed as a result of an auto accident about nine years ago.

They said donations also were received from the East Liverpool area, but pointed out they are no longer soliciting.

The extra money received will be used to purchase an air-conditioner and other items for Barnhouse's comfort.

$1,000 Donated For Rogers Man

A campaign to raise funds to aid George Barnhouse of Rogers has exceeded the $1,000 goal.

Mrs. Elsie Bowers and Mrs. Alberta Crawford, co-chairmen, said today the money will be used to purchase an electric wheelchair and body lift for Barnhouse, paralyzed as a result of an auto accident about nine years ago.

They said donations also were received from the East Liverpool area, but pointed out they are no longer soliciting.

The extra money received will be used to purchase an air-conditioner and other items for Barnhouse's comfort.

On this date:

In 1830, the first Mormon church was organized by Joseph Smith at Fayette, N. Y.

In 1841, Vice President John Tyler was sworn in as the 10th U.S. president, following the death of President William H. Harrison.

In 1909, the American explorer, Robert E. Peary, reached the North Pole.

In 1941, German forces began invading Greece and Yugoslavia.

A Junior Editors Quiz About GEORGE WASHINGTON

QUESTION: Why is George Washington called "The Father of His Country?"

ANSWER: Washington won a top spot in our history books by a combination of qualities. Brave and resourceful, he was careful in making decisions. Once he made a decision, he pushed it through with determination. Under his thinking was a foundation of honor, integrity, love of God, love of country. He was the man to fit the hour, and a more difficult hour never existed to test a man's strength. Consider that he was suddenly called to command, in his own words, "raw militia, badly officered and with no government." Then, after winning what seemed an impossible victory, he had to organize a new nation. We bring up a typical incident to show how truly Washington acted as the father of his country. It was after the victory but before the troops had been disbanded. They had not been paid and conditions were chaotic. A group of officers called on Washington to organize a monarchy with himself as king. But Washington had been fighting to oppose tyranny — not to grab power for himself. "I view this suggestion with abhorrence," he cried, "banish it from your minds!" The suggestion was not made again. America remained a republic. "The Father of His Country" had seen to that.
